New Coal Strike Truce For Four Months Prevails

Miners Again Directed To Return To Work, Until October 31

COURT ACTION ON PAY ISSUE SEEN

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, June 23.—A four months truce ending the 48 hour coal strike prevailed today while Mine Chief John L. Lewis prepared to carry to the courts his battle to obtain higher wages for 540,000 miners.

The third paralyzing coal strike was ended when the United Mine Workers policy committee instructed the miners to return to work until midnight Oct. 31, on condition that the mines remain under government operation.

Back-to-work orders actually went out to the far-flung 3,000 local unions of the UMW early today, making it unlikely that full scale production would be resumed before tomorrow at the earliest and possibly not before Friday.

Defiant Of WLB
In calling off the walkout, the UMW president remained defiant of the War Labor Board.

"The miners are going back to work for the government and not for the coal operators," he said. "They do so in the utmost good faith and in the hope their government will treat them with the same good faith."

In effect, Lewis decreed a "breathing spell" long enough for him to take to court the claims of the miners for underground travel pay. The WLB denied such payments as a "hidden" wage increase in violation of the national stabilization policy.

In so doing, the bushy-browed labor leader accepted at face value the board's advice. While asserting that it could not determine the validity of the miners' portal-to-portal claims, the WLB said that

PA NEW OBSERVES

Airplane spotters in the Lawrence County lookout stations these days have been having a lot more to do than usual. There has been quite an increase in airplane traffic over this area.

Two weeks and a half and it will be the Fourth of July again. Indications are that the nation's birthday will be observed in a stay-at-home manner this year.

Some motorists appear to be able to make long distance trips, despite the gasoline situation. A car carrying Arizona license plates was noted in the public square a day or two since.

Delivery of ration book No. 3 is under way in New Castle, a considerable number of families having received the new books at this time.

On South Mill street, the former home of the late Ike Hill, corner of Home street, has been renovated; part of the work done was putting on a patent siding which gives the building a splendid appearance.

Temperatures during the past week have been exceedingly warm for this time of the year, and have been running between five and ten degrees per day warmer than last year during the same period, a comparison shows. However, there has been no excessive heat wave noted, but it has been uncomfortably warm.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today are as follows:
Maximum temperature, 88.
Minimum temperature, 58.
No precipitation.
River stage, 5 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:
Maximum temperature, 81.
Minimum temperature, 52.

Widening Path Of Destruction Spreads Through Jap Bases

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, June 23.—A widening path of destruction today spread through Japan's forward bases in the Pacific under the relentless wings of America's growing air offensive.

The pounding against enemy outposts, especially in the South Pacific, indicated that American armies are paving the way for more important land, sea and sky blows against the Japs.

Although the Japanese in recent weeks have attempted large scale

Ground Action On Russian Front Reported As Comparatively Quiet

MOSCOW, June 23.—Further exchanges of heavy aerial blows by Soviet and German aircraft were disclosed today as ground action along the entire Russian front remained at a comparative standstill.

Large forces of Russian bombers were revealed by Moscow air circles to have carried out a new series of raids against Nazi airfields and munition and fuel dumps behind the lines.

The heavy loads of bombs dropped by the Russian aircraft blasted numerous grounded German planes. Several large fires and some big explosions resulted from direct bomb hits on the ammunition and fuel dumps.

The raids cost the Russians only one plane which failed to return to base, it was said.

Baggage Car Blast At Ashland Kills Two, Injures Five

(International News Service)
ASHLAND, O., June 23.—Two men were killed and five injured in a flaming explosion which occurred in a baggage coach of the Erie railroad at Ashland early today.

The two men killed outright in the blast which happened shortly after midnight were James Velle, 26, of Meville, Pa., and Eugene McMurray, 42, of Ashland. Both were employees of the Railway Express Co.

Police believe the explosion was caused by fireworks which were being loaded in the baggage coach and naphtha which was being transported. Erie railroad officials were investigating the accident today.

Three railroad employees were in Ashland hospital today and two others were treated and released. Henry Duffner, 51, of Ashland is in critical condition with severe burns while Clarence Beck, 40, of Marion and Oliver Highman, 30, of Ashland were in good condition after suffering lacerations and shock. The two men given emergency treatment were Merle Crandall and William Gray.

Service on the line was halted for three hours as Ashland firemen fought the fire.

On South Mill street, the former home of the late Ike Hill, corner of Home street, has been renovated; part of the work done was putting on a patent siding which gives the building a splendid appearance.

Urges Aluminum Plants To Work Full Time July 4

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 23.—Charles E. Wilson, vice-chairman of the War Production Board, today appealed to producers of aluminum and magnesium, vitally needed in the aircraft industry, to work full time on July 4 and all other holidays except Christmas.

He also requested them to maintain normal operations on Sundays immediately preceding or following holidays.

He pointed out that the aircraft production board has established this holiday policy and has asked manufacturers of aluminum and magnesium alloy fabrications to follow a similar policy.

R. A. F. Bombers Blast Muelheim In Ruhr Valley

Nazi War Industrial Center Is Latest Victim Of Huge Bomb Raid

ALLIES KEEP UP RECORD ATTACKS

By LEON V. DOLAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, June 23.—The Nazi Ruhr valley war industries center of Muelheim was turned into a blazing inferno early today when several hundred of Britain's biggest bombers showered the city with block-buster bombs and thousands of incendiaries.

The German radio said that Oberhausen, directly north, was bombed along with Muelheim. It was considered probable that high explosives did hit Oberhausen since the two localities virtually form one big town.

Site Of Iron Works
Muelheim-an-der-Ruhr, about 7 miles west southwest of Essen, is the site of iron works, rolling mills, blast-furnaces and engine works.

The scope of the assault was evident in the air ministry announcement that 35 of the Royal Air Force's bombers were lost in the attack. According to the previous average of losses this would indicate a force of 600 to 700 took part.

Pilots returning from this latest attack in the heaviest sustained cycle of Allied bombardments against Nazi Germany reported that fires still were blazing at Krefeld, 10 miles southwest of Duisburg, which was hit by the R. A. F. less than 24 hours before, and at Hils, Ruhr city hammered in daylight yesterday by American flying fortresses.

Preliminary reports said that the attack on Muelheim was well concentrated.

"Heavy, concentrated and successful," was the terminology used by the authoritative British Press Association to describe the raid after issuance of the communiqué by the air ministry.

In Duisburg Center
Muelheim, with a population of 136,000 and a satellite town of the larger industrial center of Duisburg to the west, was last hit by the R. A. F. on the night of Dec. 21, 1940.

Besides being an important steel and railroad repair center, Muel-

Yanks Eager To Start Invasion

Large-Scale Amphibious Training Under Way In Southern England

By RICHARD TREGASKIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN SOUTHERN ENGLAND, June 23.—Crack American troops who have begun large-scale amphibious training, practicing commando-style landings close to German-held territory, today are eager to get started on the invasion of Europe.

Since their present training follows months of grueling field maneuvers during which they defeated a British airborne brigade—it is believed this group of Yanks will spearhead American participation in actual invasion of the continent.

Lieut. Claude Kirby of Charleston, W. Va., was enthusiastic over his men's landing practice. "They left their boat in 10 seconds," he beamed.

Outfit Is Tough
"This outfit is tough," remarked Col. Charles Canham of Howell, Mich. "They will walk 25 miles, then go out jiggerbugging all night."

Col. Canham cited Pvt. James Frazier of Fredericksburg, Va., as typical. "In a recent raid Frazier was struck on the face by a fragment of an anti-aircraft shell," the colonel related. "But it didn't do any harm—he is too tough."

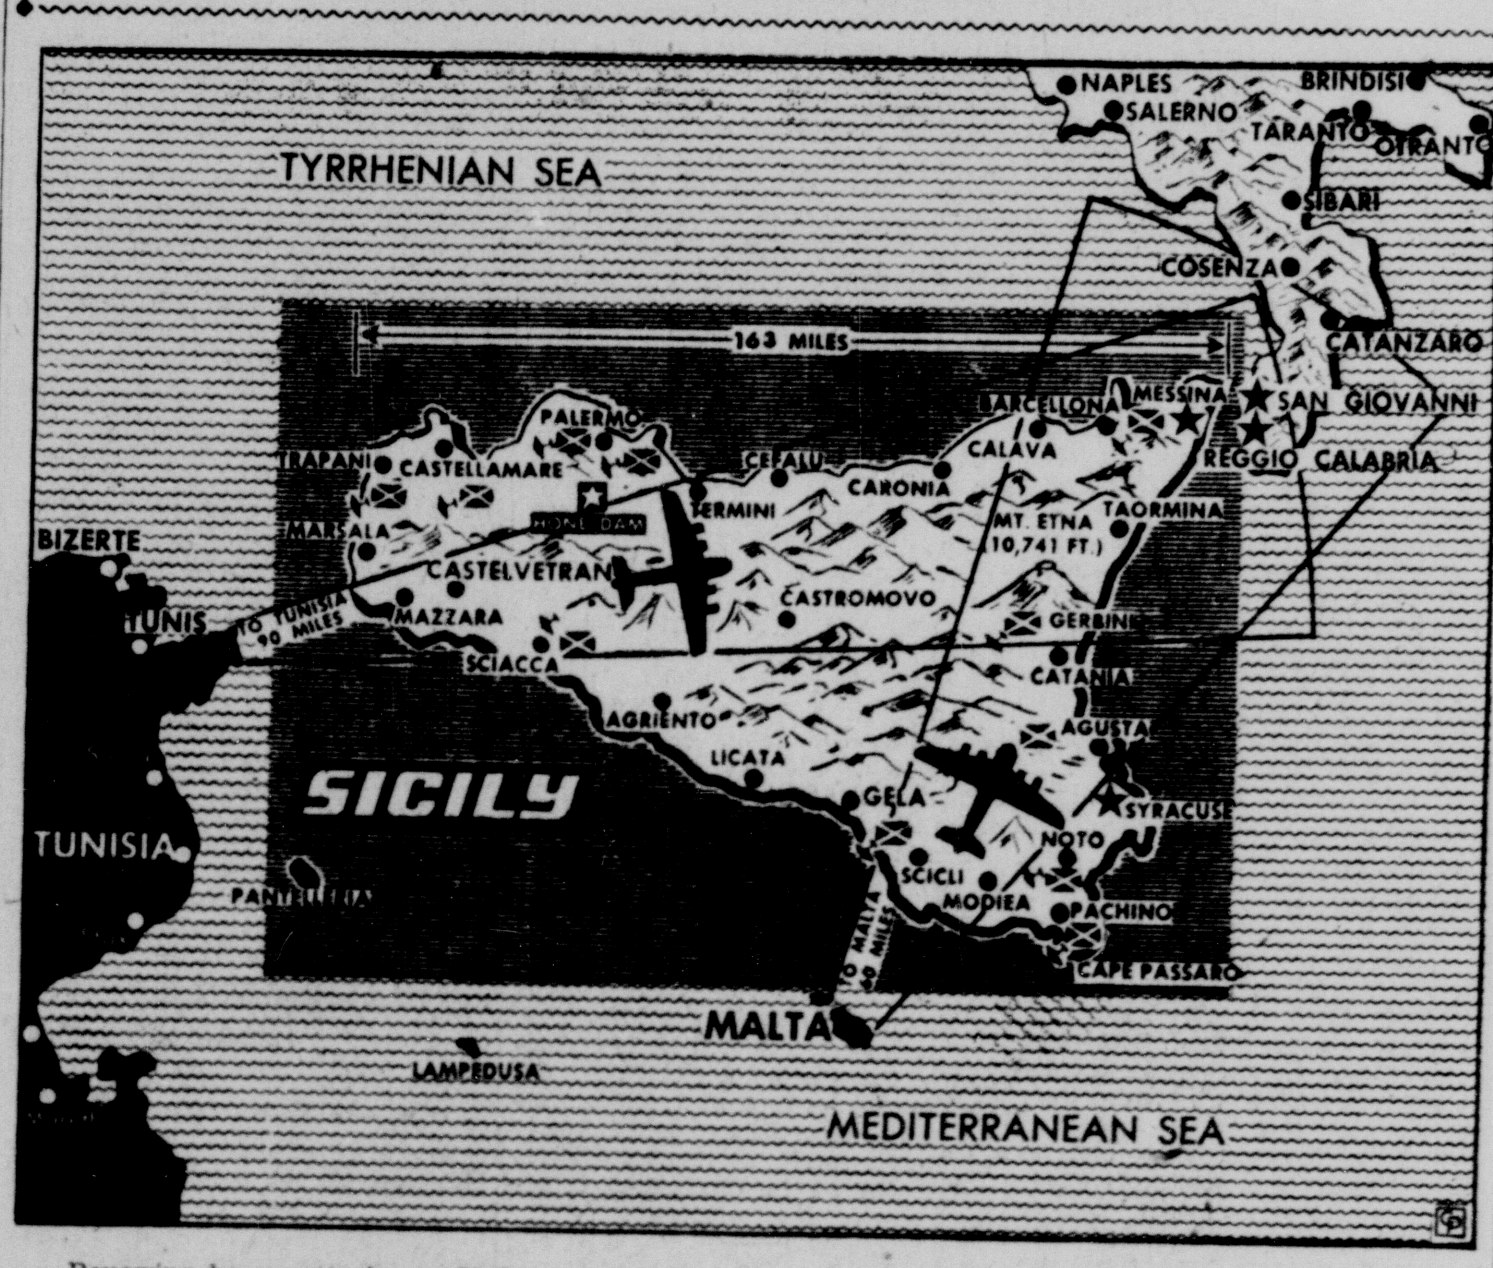

In the current maneuvers, tank destroyers, half-track 75 mm guns,

Urges Rome Be Declared 'Open City' To Save It

British Authority Makes Suggestion—Promises Invasion Of Germany

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 23.—A flat promise that the "dogs of war" in the shape of land armies will be unleashed against Germany when the Allied air forces have completed their work was given by an authoritative British aerial commentator today.

Coupled with a suggestion that Italy declare Rome an open city and allow Allied troops to enter it and save the Italian capital from destruction, the commentator reviewed the damage already done to Germany's Ruhr and said:

"Ruhr production already has been reduced by one-third. The Allies will continue day and night bombing until the Ruhr has been reduced to such an extent it no longer will be able to supply German armies with arms or equipment."

"When that state of impotence has been reached, then we will let loose the dogs of war—armies—upon them."

The suggested declaration of Rome as an open city was believed to have official sanction.

See Delay In Plan For State To Take Over Toll Bridges

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 23.—Pennsylvania's privately-owned toll bridges may not be taken over by the state until after the war, it appeared today.

Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer said that although he is investigating the 12 private intrastate spans, the department could not free them from their present ownership until some time in the future. He added that "I can't say off-hand whether we can take them over before the end of the war, but it will not be in the near future."

"I'm just making an investigation of toll bridges with a view to finding out what I can find out about them," he stated.

Port Of Salerno Again Bombed By Allied Fliers

Destructive New Attacks Upon Harbor And Rail Junction City

SECOND ATTACK IN THREE DAYS

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, In North Africa, June 23.—Destructive new attacks upon the important Italian port and rail junction city of Salerno, still smoking from Monday's daylight pounding by American flying fortresses, were announced today by Allied headquarters.

The port, only 30 miles southeast of bomb-pocked Naples, was ripped by two-ton blockbusters and thousands of incendiaries from British Wellington bombers late Monday night. The pilots were guided to their objective by huge pillars of smoke billowing upward from the flying fortress raid of several hours earlier.

The industrial and railway sections of the city were blasted heavily. Huge new conflagrations were only light bursts of anti-aircraft fire and no opposition from enemy fighter planes.

Objective of the night attack was the complete destruction of shipping facilities and the paralyzation of the main electric railway line which links the Port of Naples with southern Italy, Allied spokesmen revealed.

Show Terrific Damage
Simultaneously, reconnaissance photographs showed terrific damage was wrought in Monday's assault against both Salerno and Naples. Forty per cent of the big royal arsenal at Naples was revealed.

Yanks In Pacific Want No Hollywood Style South Seas

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 23.—American soldiers, sailors and Marines who are stationed on remote Pacific islands are badly in need of recreation facilities, but they don't want to see any movies depicting romance in the South Seas.

This report came today from Lt. Comdr. Arthur T. Noren, who has just returned from a two months inspection tour in the Pacific.

"The Yanks never want to see another glamorous, romantic South Sea Island movie, Moresen said, explaining.

"For the first day or so a lot of the islands look like a Hollywood set. But the palm trees soon lose their charm, the islands are dreary and uncomfortable, and native chiefs' daughters don't look like Dorothy Lamour."

Noren reported that baseball bats, pianos, movies, magazines, chess sets and phonographs now are moving to the U. S. advance Pacific bases and will prove important as a contributing factor to morale "in the final assault against Japan."

Expect Miners To Return Thursday

Normal Mining Conditions Are Expected To Prevail By Tomorrow

WAR PRODUCTION NOW HANDICAPPED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 23.—Although the paralyzing strike of more than 500,000 United Mine Workers which began on Sunday was officially ended today, there was little likelihood that normal mining conditions would be effected until some time tomorrow.

Expressing general feelings, William Hargest, secretary-treasurer of District 5, said that miners would not get word in time to return to work today but "I expect they can start back by Thursday."

An elaborate system of notification is necessary before a return to work can be made effective. The union policy committee must inform local leaders of their decision, whereupon the locals vote on the question.

By Thursday in this area, however, a serious situation in steel production will exist which may take many days of coal mining to return to normal.

The U. S. Steel corporation reported last night that six blast furnaces were closed already because of lack of coal and officials predicted that 19 would be down by tomorrow. Once a furnace is shut down it requires a day or two to get back to normal operations.

The sentiment among miners generally was disappointment that wage increases had not been granted, but most were glad to return to work.

Army And Navy Not Getting Meat Quota

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 23.—Further reduction in civilian beef consumption loomed today with disclosure that the army and navy are not getting their full meat requirements.

At a meeting of the war meat board of food distribution in Chicago, W. O. Fraser, vice chairman, struck the only optimistic note in the picture. He predicted that cattle marketings would increase as soon as price rollback uncertainties were dispelled.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has given assurance that the subsidy to offset the price rollback will be paid to packers on slaughtering done since June 7. Fraser said, "and as soon as the cattle start coming in again beef production will increase."

He added, however, that present supplies were inadequate for the army and navy.

WIDENING PATH OF DESTRUCTION SPREADS THROUGH JAP BASES

Aleutians 18 times despite bad weather, while the enemy has shown no signs of action since the fall of Attu Island.

Also since June 1, long range army and navy bombers have struck at remote Japanese outposts on Nauru and Tarawa islands in the Gilbert area.

Targets of most of the American air attacks in the South Pacific have been the important Jap bases in the Buin area of the Northern Solomons and the Munda zone in the central part of the Archipelago.

Hamper Base Building

The pounding against Munda and Vila in the Central Solomons apparently has prevented the Japs from completing airfields that have been under construction for many months.

The enemy began building bases when it became obvious he would use his toe-hold on Guadalcanal last January, but America's virtual "non-stop" air attacks hampered construction work.

However, the Japanese still hold important air fields on Bougainville Island in the Northern Solomons, where most of the enemy's counterattacks originated.

While the next large scale American and United Nations invasion offensive may be directed against the New Britain area (Rabaul), some navy men have contended that capture of Bougainville would be very valuable.

Seizure of Bougainville would give the United Nations important air bases from which to hit the Rabaul zone, as well as enemy points in the New Ireland area.

Just when the next American offensive is scheduled to get under way is not known, but conservative war analysts asserted it may come at any time now.

I watched a practice landing on a steep shore. Small units of Americans, collaborating with British Commandos, seized a simulated German command post, "captured" the garrison and withdrew. These men are tough, sure enough.

Capt. Asbury H. Jackson of Winchester, Va., commander of the outfit, is proud of the record his men have established. He described them as "trained to the peak and darned anxious to get going."

Quoth Pvt. Richard Stelzman of Jersey City, N. J.: "I would rather be a buck private in this outfit than a lieutenant back in the states."

AERIAL BATTLES ON RED FRONT

located locally near Leningrad. In bitter dogfights between the Nazi airmen and Russian defenders 17 German planes were shot down while the Soviets lost nine of their craft. The Germans succeeded only in damaging a railway track.

Soviet artillery on the central front west of Moscow smashed at German defenses and 160 Nazi troops were slain in action, the high command reported.

Guns of a unit laid an intense fire barrage against enemy positions, the Red army communiqué said.

"Direct shell hits blew up an ammunition dump and destroyed an artillery and mortar battery of the enemy."

Artillery Duels

Northwest of Mtsensk in the Orel battle sector both Soviet and German artillery batteries exchanged fire. Several Nazi fortifications were reported demolished and at least 80 Germans were killed.

German planes attempted to raid a Russian military objective near Mtsensk but the hostile craft were dispersed on the approaches to the target. Two of the Nazi planes were shot down, according to the high command.

On the southern front below Orel, Soviet gunners operating in the Sevsk area, west of Kursk, wiped out "at least a company of enemy infantry, demolished a timer and earth-firing position, destroyed two transport columns and blew up an ammunition dump."

The high command also reported scouting by Soviet troops behind German lines in the Sevsk and continued artillery duels.

Snipers on the northwest Leningrad front were credited with slaying 200 German officers and men while numerous Nazi defense positions were blasted by Russian artillery and mortar fire.

the same basis as Paris during the closing days of the German drive into France.

"The French government and military withdrew from Paris and allowed the enemy to enter it," he declared.

"Therefore, it was spared." The commentator then went on to say, "if the government and military were withdrawn from Rome and Rome was declared in the future to have no part in the direction of the war, then it could be spared from bombing."

In discussing Allied aerial offensive against the Reich itself, he declared that production of the vital Ruhr valley already has been reduced by one-third. Anglo-American fliers, he added, will continue by day and night to bomb objectives there until the Ruhr is reduced to such an extent that it can no longer supply the German army with arms or equipment.

"When that state of impotence has been reached," he promised, "then we'll let loose the dogs of war—our armies—on them."

More than 15,000 tons of bombs were dropped on Germany between May 22 and June 22, yesterday, he disclosed. Since January, some 30,000 tons of bombs have been dropped on the Reich and occupied France, exclusive of the tonnage rocking the Ruhr, the commentator concluded.

the union could go to court and try to justify them under the fair labor standards act.

Await Court Action

If the courts rule that the miners are entitled to payment for time spent in traveling from the entrance to the face of the mine, then the WLB will pass upon the amount and determine whether it is "an allowable wage increase representing a genuine settlement of the claim."

Refusing to accept the WLB's ruling to sign a contract with the mine owners embodying substantially the same provisions as the 1941 agreement, plus 25 cents additional daily in vacation and tool allowances and a non-strike provision for the duration of the war the UMW policy committee stated:

"The executive officers of the International Union are hereby expressly authorized to exercise their discretion in the filing of suits at law, or by any other necessary means, to protect the equity of the membership in the matter of portal-to-portal compensation, both as to current and deferred liabilities."

The committee's action apparently was an outgrowth of two conferences between Lewis and Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes federal operator of the mines since they were seized May 1.

It came a few hours after the WLB formally notified President Roosevelt of the UMW's defiance of the board's order and asked him to use "all powers of government necessary for its enforcement."

The policy committee instructed the miners to resume production of coal under Ickes' direction until Oct. 31 and said that the mine boss assured that prevailing wages and conditions will be continued.

The policy committee recognized the possibility of a separate agreement between the UMW and the anti-trust nine owners covering some 80,000 miners in Pennsylvania's hard coal fields. Negotiations now are underway in New York.

Parolee, Ill, Seeks Pardon To Die Free

HARRISBURG, June 23.—A 42-year-old Philadelphia parolee awaited a pardon today from Gov. Edward Martin so that he may die a free man.

After appealing to the state board of pardons yesterday, Ralph Dickerson, 42, suffered a heart attack and was taken to the polyclinic hospital where he signed his own release this morning. He had been convicted of a burglary charge in 1927.

The board unanimously recommended that the governor sign a pardon for Dickerson who pleaded that "I want my name to be cleared in the event that I should die soon."

He served 11 years of his 40 to 50 year term before being paroled. Appearing with him before the board were his parole officer, W. A. Stein, who described him as a "model parolee," and Dr. Beveridge Miller, his physician, who told of his critical condition.

"He may live five or 10 years—he may die today," asserted Miller. The board was informed that Dickerson was cited for bravery by President Woodrow Wilson during World War 1.

R. A. F. BOMBERS BLAST MUELHEIM IN RUHR VALLEY

heim is one of the principal Ruhr outlets by rail to South Germany. Considering the smallness of the town and the probability that some 700 bombers made the attack the raid compares with the heaviest ever made by the British. On the basis of an estimated number of aircraft employed, probably nearly 2,000 tons of bombs were smashed down upon Muelheim.

In addition to the 35 bombers lost the night-time operations cost the British one fighter plane.

Greatest Assaults

In two nights and one day the Ruhr has undergone one of the greatest air assault of all time. Allied bombers have concentrated in that short period of weight of bombs which as recently as last year took almost an entire day to deliver.

Conservative estimates put the bomb load dropped since Tuesday morning at a total of at least 4,000 tons in an area about 20 miles long. A German claim that Nazi defenses had downed a total of 135 British and American ships was declared untrue in London. The actual total of bombers lost was 99, and probably this figure represents not more than seven or eight per cent of the forces employed.

The Royal Air Force bombers encountered stubborn defenses but nonetheless the target was left a blazing mass. The communiqué said. The fires started in the target area could be seen for 100 miles by the flares on the return journey. Huge crimson-tinted pillars of smoke rose from the objective to a height of 8,000 feet.

Hard Coal Miners To Return To Jobs

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 23.—Pennsylvania's 80,000 anthracite workers were officially notified today to return to work "immediately" and the action was expected to insure full operation tomorrow of hard coal mines which had continued to remain idle despite termination of the national coal strike.

The instructions were received from the tri-district scale committee, governing body of the United Mine Workers Union of the anthracite region of Northwestern Pennsylvania where practically all of the nation's hard coal is mined.

State Engineer Completes Survey Of State Routes—Resurfacing Needed

Director of public improvements James Gibson today stated that William Stevens, maintenance engineer, Pittsburgh district, State Highway system, completed a survey of the condition of state highway continuations within the city yesterday. His report will be sent to John U. Schroyer, head of the Pennsylvania Highway system.

According to Mr. Gibson and City Engineer John Z. Street, the maintenance engineer, studied the state highway continuation from which tracks were removed. He reportedly stated that from an engineering viewpoint resurfacing would prove very economical.

The state highway continuations here are not in good condition and it is hoped by city officials that the highway department can find it possible to afford relief through a resurfacing plan for which not only the city officials but also the citizens would be very grateful.

While none of the city officials would be quoted nevertheless in talking of the recent visit here of Commissioner Schroyer and the inspection by Engineer Stevens they are optimistic that some plan may be developed which will help alleviate the situation.

SIRENS TO BLOW AT CURFEW HOUR

Public Safety Director D. O. Davies today announced that he had arranged with Fire Chief James E. Chief of Police Willis G. McMullen and the brewery whistle sound at 11 p. m. last night. This whistle will also continue sounding, it was reported.

Mr. Davies explained that the sirens at each fire house will prove louder than fire bells. Police are enforcing the curfew ordinance.

One question has arisen. That concerns married persons not yet 18. According to the city ordinance they also must obey the curfew order.

Hundreds View Castleton China

Until Thursday night at nine o'clock New Castle people will have the opportunity of seeing the exhibition of Castleton china now showing in the Coral room of The Castleton hotel. With the china are the original paintings of fifteen contemporary artists who painted the designs to be used on the china.

Since the exhibition opened hundreds have seen it. To the lover of fine china the exhibition is a revelation. Manufactured by the Shengnang Pottery the china has attracted thousands of spectators over the eastern United States since it first went on display. Mrs. Hazel Ervin who has charge of the exhibition will take it to New York City on Friday and late in August, will begin a tour of western cities.

AROUND CITY HALL

There is a worry in a Leasure avenue home and there should be because a calamity has occurred. The head of the household accidentally destroyed the ration book for the family . . . The dog catcher is as busy as a one-armed paper hanger and was trying to answer as many "dog calls" as possible today. The cost of recovering a dog has been boosted to $1.00, plus board, if the dog-catcher so desires to impose it. . . Car of George Grim, Randolph street, stolen May 11, was located in Kentucky, police report. Auto of George W. AXIS FACES RETRIBUTION

AS IT was said of old, "the wages of sin is death". It is exemplified today on many a battle front, in many a council chamber and a many a proud home.

A poignant example is described in a recent news report from Switzerland, telling of the evacuation of German cities. As the Allied forces press inland with their ever-growing air power, and the peril of invasion draws nearer, the German people and press are described as in a bad state of "war nerves".

Nazi newspapers tell of the heavy damage caused by the Allied bombing, of the fugitive Germans leaving the cities for the open country, of the aerial "strafing" invented by the Germans themselves and now turned against them, of doubts and fears steadily growing, of farmers having to open their homes to the city fugitives and resenting it, of city people in their new rural surroundings suffering from lack of street cars and movies and bath rooms, and so on.

All these troubles, and many more which they have still to face, rise up and overwhelm them because they made themselves a voluntary part of the vast conspiracy to rob and enslave Europe, with the rest of the world to follow in due time. And it is reassuring to see them discovering at last, through bitter experience, that it cannot be done. With that lesson learned, first by the Germans and then by the Japanese, there is hope of a peaceful and civilized world.

GIVING THEM JITTERS

Undoubtedly one of the reasons for the intense speculation in Allied countries as to possible points of attack by the Allies on Europe—speculation which sometimes seems to be government inspired—is the conclusion of the military strategists that the more speculation, the more distracted der fuhrer will be.

No one but the heads of the American and British governments knows the point of invasion. But the laymen who are doing the guessing are promoting acute cases of jitters for Hitler and Mussolini.

BACK SEAT DRIVERS

The front seat driver has rebelled, and the back seat driver has been put in his place.

A California bus line has women drivers. The customers of one thought they knew more about her job than she did, and told her so in considerable detail. Finally she turned the bus back and deposited her passengers at the place from which they had started. The company upheld her.

The first impulse is to cheer. Any private driver so acting would deserve well of his country. But the rider on a public conveyance generally thinks that, along with his ticket, he has bought the right to kick. Can it be that this right, along with so many other peace-time privileges, must be abandoned for the duration?

ZOOT SUIT CONFUSION

It was typical of some of the topsy-turvy trends of the times that when the zoot suit outbreak came in Los Angeles recently nearly everybody who studied it to find out the truth about the phenomena had to confess confusion over the whole incident.

Youths, appearing single and in groups, wearing an unusual style of attire—hat, coat and trousers—suddenly became the center of street riots. The explanation offered in the news, and the view was supported in part by the police, was that some of these zoot suit wearers were preying upon soldiers and sailors on leave, who turned on the zoot suiters, reported to be of Mexican descent, and tore their clothes off.

This account of the events indicated that a racial element was involved. But that assumption is not sustained by the admiral and the major general in charge of the armed forces in that sector. Neither is it affirmed by a committee of citizens who made a thorough investigation. Indeed, the more the matter is weighed the less the inquirers seem to be about the cause of the strange explosion.

It is possible that the disorder was due to the oddity of the zoot suit itself, the social convulsion it caused being analogous to that which attended introduction of the plug hat years ago in the wild and woolly west.

JUST ASK YOURSELF!

Fred C. Kelly, writing in a popular magazine, presents some up-to-date philosophy when he provides a list of "Questions to Ask Yourself in Front of Your Bath Room Mirror". And here they are:

How much time did I waste yesterday in foolish or unnecessary arguments?

Was I too positive and dogmatic in my opinions?

Now that it is over, is there any chance that the other fellow was right?

Did I talk so much yesterday that I prevented talk by others from whom I might have learned something?

Who of all the persons I saw yesterday, did I find most pleasing and agreeable, and why?

Was I impressed by pompous, pretentious people, or by the quiet, unassuming type?

What part of my expenditures yesterday were for articles that I could easily have done without?

Did I go out of my way yesterday to do anyone a friendly turn?

Did I get more pleasure out of overcoming the other fellow in some transaction and making him miserable, or from giving in a little and putting him in a good humor?

Some imitation flavors are reported to be better than the original. Perhaps in time synthetic chemistry will gild the lily.

Now that some sort of a pay-as-you-go tax plan is in effect, there are indications in Washington that the going will get tougher after January 1.

Wall Street is reported to be offering odds of two to one that Hitler will be defeated before snow flies again, which should arouse hopes for an early winter.

The Gestapo-enforced ban on "pleasure" driving now in effect in the East undoubtedly will be extended to the entire nation when the time for it arrives, says Ickes. That will be, presumably, after auto owners have paid $5 for new "use" stamps.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PATRIOTIC TEACHERS STAY ON JOBS

Some teachers feel the urge to get into some war work more glamorous than teaching. But if they wish to be patriotic, they should stay on the job. The children need them.

An occasional teacher, of course, never meant to be with children, would be very patriotic to do anything else but teach. But of such there are very few. Too often, the poor teacher would be poor at anything else and, more often still, the best teacher is first lured into other fields.

It does take genuine patriotism to continue teaching at so small a salary when almost any teacher easily could double or triple her salary in a war industry, and find it far less wearing on her nerves.

Parents Can Help
We parents might help teachers to resolve to stick to teaching, in two ways. 1. By expressing to these teachers more appreciation for their contribution to our community and to the welfare of our children. We should also strive harder to cultivate in our children better cooperation with the teacher and consideration of her as a person. 2. By seeing to it that our teachers are paid better salaries. Most of them are working faithfully at the very low salary level of the depression days while the common laborer has enjoyed greatly increased pay and while the cost of living has been soaring.

Besides, the teacher had to spend considerable money and many years of study to become a qualified teacher, with no income during that time.

School principals and superintendents all over America have been telling me that ex-teachers who are mothers are proving to be excellent teachers when called back as substitutes or on permanent tenure.

Why should not these leaders induce the public and the Board of Education to abolish permanently the silly ban on marriage for teachers? Such a move would encourage more of our best teachers to continue teaching. With more married women and mothers in our public schools, there inevitably would be more emphasis in class instruction on family life.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. What are some of the first steps in educating the child to respect the rights and possessions of others?

A. Respect his. Do not use the things, even of the three year old, without his permission and see that others don't. Don't go through the purse and pockets of the child of any age, nor read his letters, nor peek into his diary. Protect the older child from the inroads of the younger and the tag-a-long. Never allow yourself to deceive your child. Keep your promises to him. Don't interrupt him or talk back to him. Try to treat him as a person. In the meanwhile teach him the unambiguous meaning of NO.

Q. Do you still have copies of your "Prayer for Parents?"
A. Yes, to be had in the usual way.

WILD CANARIES
The wild canaries came today.
Bright bits of black and gold,
And fairly sang the rain away
And sang away the cold.

I watched them flit from tree to tree.
In regal robes arrayed,
And marveled living things could be
So delicately made.

In shades of bright chalcidony,
In mounts of gold refined,
They seemed like living jewelry
Exquisitely designed.

Not all the art of human skill
With brush or wheel or blade,
Nor all man's patience, strength or will
So fair a thing has made.

Doris Dazzle, who is pretty busy these days, what with working in the Fernhill beauty shoppe and putting in a shift at the aircraft warning center, still finds some time to see boy friends.

"And did he kiss you?" asked Flossie.

"Well," Doris smiled, "he's still alive."

Grandma explained to him that when they grew up they weren't goslings any more, but were geese and ganders. He thought a minute, then said, "Well, grandma, how do you tell the geese from the ganders?" Grandma, being quick on the trigger, replied nonchalantly, "Oh, I just let 'em run and let 'em find that out for themselves."

Good Taste

GIRL GIVING GIFT TO SERVICEMAN

"I am now going steady with a boy friend who will go into the service within a month. Although I earn only $25.00 a week, I am working on a credit plan to give him a handsome platinum wrist watch carrying his initials and mine. My girl friends think this will not only be in bad taste but make me appear as throwing myself at him, as he has never proposed. What do you think?"—Dora.

Answer: I think such a gift would be quite out of place as your use of "going steady," "boy friend" and "girl friends." These expressions belong to the vocabulary of the zoot-suiters but not to a girl who associates with such discriminating girls as those now advising you.

Instead of saying that you are "going steady" with a boy, either avoid the admission altogether or state, facetiously, that he is your "favorite cavalier" or your "heart man." Or if you are engaged, always refer to him as your fiancé, and nothing else. Any of these designations will infer that you go out with him regularly, but do not flaunt the fact that your time is monopolized by anyone until your ring finger gives evidence that such is the fact. And, especially as you are engaged to be married, do not entwine your initials with his or give him any extravagant gift. It would be more appropriate for you to give him a new photograph of yourself in a pocket frame—or, at the most, a cigarette lighter, fountain pen or similar, useful gift. If you are engaged, you might buy him a gold wrist watch. Any reliable jeweler will suggest something practical and moderately priced.

Question: Is it permissible to send notes of condolence written on visiting cards and replies to these also written on visiting cards?—L. B.

Answer: Yes, a visiting card with expressions of sympathy written thereon may be sent to a bereaved person. Acknowledgments of notes of condolence may be written on visiting cards; however, a note is preferable, especially to close friends.

If the tomato plants and onions and stuff could talk, it would assist the diagnostician. Something like Sonovox, but expressing the vegetables' own opinions. So the corn would tell you, in a sweet corny voice, "I hurt right here, see? I think I got worms." And the eggplant would cackle, "I may be growing well, and blossoming, but the blossoms don't set. The reason I don't lay any eggs is, you ain't feeding me enough superphosphate." Or whatever is wrong with the diet. And the Irish potato plants would say, "Begorra, it's myself that's feelin' weak this fine mornin'. Oh, sorra the day when you planted me in the ground. I do be thinkin' it's too alkaline it is. Worra, worra, worra!"

A human being can give the doctor some idea of his symptoms, and even a dumb animal can make a noise to indicate when you touch it where it hurts, but you have to be extra expert to discover why an apparently thriving tomato plant isn't bearing a nice lot of berries, or whether an anemic turnip needs a blood transfusion.

Inside Washington

Record Mishaps Mar Capital Safety Week
Washington Too Overcrowded For Safety
Accident Toll Has Become Very Alarming

By CHARLES P. STEWART

(Central Press Columnist)
WASHINGTON, June 23—Washington had a Safety-for-Pedestrians Week recently.

This wartime boom town is so jammed with so many residents and visitors, that its streets are a perfect bedlam from sun-up until the next following sun-up. Washington is a confusing network of thoroughfares to negotiate, anyway, due to its multiplicity of diagonal avenues, crisscrossing in every direction. Furthermore, its traffic control is nothing to brag about. The result is that highway casualties become numerous enough for even congress to notice.

So finally this Safety-for-Pedestrians Week was decreed, with a view concentrating public attention upon the alarming nature of the situation.

It began, as all weeks do, at midnight, ushering in the first day of the sequence of seven. The clock had not finished striking before a trolley car celebrated the occasion by exterminating a citizen on his way from curb to curb in the downtown section. Several additional fatalities followed before nightfall. It was a high score of street accidents even for Washington, but the rest of the week improved on it, piling up a record that had not previously been achieved since the capital's war boom started. The total sounds small in comparison with the slaughter on our current battlefields, but it was pretty creditable for Washingtonian autos and buses and miscellaneous transportation facilities.

In short, if the week's purpose was to emphasize the urgency of greater care for the safety of pedestrian folk, or of livelier activity on the part of pedestrians, it was a very convincing demonstration.

Indeed, the press dwelt on the fact that we ought to be more preservative of civilian-power, pedestrianly, for fighting power.

War-time workers, in and around Columbia's District (including girl employees and members of the boys' families) are in desperate straits for roofs to cover their heads. They have slopped over from Washington into Virginia and Maryland and even farther, and the whole area cannot provide for them adequately. The general community has grown too fast—that is the difficulty. Rentals are nearly impossible and so are accommodations.

Food is a very serious item in Washington.

It is not solely a matter of rationing.

Food, though simple and not consumed over-greedily, has got to be qualitatively good stuff.

How have Washington morals been affected by the stress of war?

There has been a mixture of the sexes, and it is a worry.

We all know about "initial" bureaux, like the OWI, the AFL, the WAAC and the like.

But, the other day, I ran across this—

Translated?—The Venereal Disease Investigation!

It essentially is a Washington rather than a national agitation.

Washington now is in a state of mind lest it lose its beer.

It is a cuckoo burg.

There is a lot of talk to the effect that it ought to be given self-government. But it doesn't get it.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A prisoner wrote the words and music of one of the country's popular songs, and royalties are piling up so that he'll be well to do when his sentence is up six months from now.

He was sent up for three years for the theft of an automobile. He is a baker by trade and works in the prison bake shop. He wrote the song in the evenings in his cell and he'll write more, he says.

So you never had a chance?

So you can't see yourself get ahead?

So your work is not congenial? So your surroundings are unpleasant?

Where do you live? In an apartment in the city? In a house in the country?

Are you locked up in a cell at night? Or can you come and go as you please?

Have you a number or a name? Are there guards over you with machine guns? Do you look out through bars on a brick wall?

Then, for heaven's sake, what do you want?

This songwriter in his steel cell may be less of a prisoner than you are!

You know the old saying, of course:

"Stone walls do not a prison make. Nor iron bars a cage."

TWO DAY TOTAL OF DONORS IS 311

On the second day of its scheduled two-week stay in New Castle, the mobile unit of the Blood Donor Service of the American Red Cross which is set up at the First Presbyterian church, received a pint of blood from each of 165 donors for the blood plasma work which the Red Cross is carrying on at home and in battle areas. During the first two days a total of 311 pints of blood have been given in New Castle.

Record donor of the day was Cortland Pierce, instructor at the New Castle airport, for whom Tuesday's contribution of blood was the sixth. For Rev. V. V. Stanczewski, pastor of St. Philip and James church, it was the fourth contribution. Miss Martha Acker received the small silver pin that is the insignia awarded donors who give blood for the third time. There were a number who were second time donors.

Appointments for today, as on the first two days, have been scheduled for 200 donors at the rate of nearly 50 an hour between 1:15 and 5:30 this afternoon.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY PLANS NEW RADIO AIR RAID SYSTEM

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 23—A new air-raid defense system was in prospect for Allegheny county today to be tied together with an independent radio station, if the federal communications commission grants a license.

The filing of an application for license was authorized yesterday by the county commissioners. The new station, it was stated, would be constructed without expense to the county since amateur radio experts and a few professionals will provide the materials and build the sending and receiving stations required.

The new system, if installed, will provide a completely independent alarm system for the county that will function even though regular communication channels should be bombed out.

FUTURE OF AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY IN STATE TO BE PLANNED SOON

The conference date will be fixed later, he said. The conclave was first proposed by Gov. Edward Martin.

College Reservists Ordered To Report

Navy And Marine Corps Reservists At Westminster To Report July 1

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, June 23—Westminster students enrolled in the Navy V-7 and V-1 programs and the Marine Corps reservists have received their orders to report to various colleges by July 1. Seven Marine Corps reservists have been assigned to Bucknell University, while approximately 40 Navy V-7 and V-1 reserves have been divided among Bethany college, Penn state, Dartmouth, Columbia, Middlebury college, and Wooster Polytechnical Institute.

Under the new program the Westminster men will continue taking courses as they did here for 16-week semesters, but they will be required to take additional necessary courses as physics, navigation, engineering drawing, and mathematics.

Students with six or seven semesters of college credit will take another semester of college work when they report. Those who have completed four or five semesters at Westminster will take two additional 16-week semesters, while those men with only two or three college semesters to their credit will be granted three additional semesters. The freshmen who entered school last February will take four semesters of college work.

College officials have been making arrangements that seniors with seven semesters completed work receive their degrees from Westminster upon fulfilling the necessary requirements.

Lutherans Are In Convention

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., June 23—One hundred and fifty delegates to the 12th annual conference of the Lutheran district of the Lutheran church of America today resumed their sessions after hearing an attack by the Rev. Otto Schultz, of Pittsburgh, against growing state paternalism.

Rev. Schultz addressed the opening meeting yesterday of the convention and warned "state paternalism is the first step toward dampening fundamental democratic and Christian concepts."

Freedom of worship, he said, was "an essential principle of separation of church and state that must be guarded zealously."

The Rev. J. Adrian Pfeiffer, of Washington, statistician for the organization, reported that the eastern district of the Lutheran church now enjoys a membership of 69,832 baptized persons and 47,984 confirmed adults.

St. Mary's Glee Club Has Program

Minstrel Program Is First Public Appearance Of New Organized Group

(Special To The News)

St. Mary's glee club gave their first public appearance, Tuesday evening in the Catholic Center on Beaver street, when they presented an enjoyable minstrel program with a capacity crowd in attendance.

Delores O'Leary was the pianist of the program, accompanied by local musicians. Thomas J. Cunningham was the interlocutor, and the end men comedians were: Harold Clark, Phil Clark, Robert Cunningham, William Gilroy, Eugene Maher, and William Nelson.

Soloists on the program, who gave excellent selections were Margaret Murphy, Francis Morrisey, Marvin Stenger, Patricia Chip, Frances Cunningham, Connie Flavin and Anna B. Hagan.

Two novelty numbers were presented later, the first a tap dance by Ruth Capitola, and another dance number by Edward Sheridan and son, Jack Sheridan.

St. Mary's chorus also took part in the program, and provided several music selections.

The glee club has been organized since February, and the audience seemed well-pleased with its first public performance. Last Sunday the group gave a dress rehearsal for the children and for visiting service men from Slippery Rock and Transfer.

During the summer there will be no activities, but in the fall new programs will be planned according to Rev. Fr. Francis P. King, assistant pastor of St. Mary's church, and director of the glee club.

State War Training Enrolment Is 24,206

Instruction Given In 120 Centers; 510 Courses Taught During May

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, June 23—A total of 24,206 enrollees represented the net enrolment in the War Production Training Program at the end of the month of May according to a report released today by Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of Public Instruction.

Of this total 8,013 were women and 3,530 Negroes.

The instruction was given in 120 active centers throughout the state where 510 courses were taught in 1522 sections. The new enrolment during the month of May amounted to 11,665 of which 4,516 were women and 1,947 Negroes.

The total number of persons received training during the month of May was 38,979 according to the report. This was a decrease from the April report of 41,733. Both months showed decided drops from the previous year when the May, 1942 total amounted to 48,918 and the April, 1942 total amounted to 50,365. These decreases indicate the call of manpower to the armed forces and while the enrolment of women is steadily progressing, the need for women in industry is urgent.

Cumulative totals from July 1, 1940, with the May 1943 totals added, show that 407,725 persons have received training in the State's War Production Training Programs. Women reached 66,809 of this total and Negroes 32,695.

House Is Due For Showdown On FSA Liquidation Issue

Vote Today On Senate Proposal To Restore Funds To Farm Agency

By ERWIN D. SIAS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 23—The house prepared for another showdown fight on the much-criticized farm security administration today with opponents seeking to terminate the life of the agency by June 30, 1944.

A firm senate stand to save the agency, which was ordered abolished by the house earlier this year, has forced the lower branch to give ground, but Democrats and Republicans alike concede that the FSA's days are numbered.

The vote today will come on a proposal that the house concur with modifications on a provision in the pending agriculture supply bill by which the senate restored $28,000,000 for FSA administrative expenses and $97,500,000 for loans, after the house had eliminated all funds.

House foes of the agency will seek to reduce these amounts to $20,000,000 for administrative expenses, and $60,000,000 for loans, and will ask that the FSA be liquidated within a year. Indications are that this compromise will be acceptable to the senate.

Rep. Tarver (D. Ga.), chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on agriculture which originally directed abolishment of the FSA, believes that the house will, within the next 12 months, set up an entire new lending program for small farmers.

Gaston Post Names State Delegates

Post To Suspend Part Of Meetings During Summer Months

Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, elected delegates to the annual state convention, which will be a streamlined affair at Wilkes-Barre, in August, at their meeting in the Legion Home, Tuesday evening.

Delegates named, were: Fire Chief James E. Thomas, Fred M. Alexander, and Assemblyman James C. Brice. The alternates, are: Clarence S. Jarrett, Norman P. Nelson, and T. Fred Brettell.

The post had the privilege of listening to a talk by William Fehl, Pharmacist Mate 1st Cl., who has just returned after witnessing the stirring action in Guadalcanal in the South Pacific theater. Although a Navy man, he was attached to the Marines and assisting in taking care of the wounded. His talk was interesting and deeply appreciated by the Legionnaires.

Plans for assisting with the State Department's $100,000 campaign for cigarettes for the men overseas was furthered and plans will be placed in strategic places in the city, where the public can donate to this fund.

Plans were also discussed for the coming record campaign, when citizens will be asked to donate old records, which will be sold and new records provided for the men in the armed forces.

Following its usual custom, the post will meet but once a month during July and August, it being voted to meet on the fourth Tuesday of the month.

SETTLE PROBLEM IN NORTH AFRICA

Political Prisoners And Refugees To Be Liberated By New Agreement

By CLINTON GREEN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, June 23—The long-vexing problem of the disposition of political prisoners and refugees in North Africa came to an apparent solution today with an order for liberation of all those held previously to the Allied landings last winter.

The decree, issued by the joint commission for political prisoners and refugees, specified that all persons interned in concentration camps, incorporated into work companies, or whose residence was confined to restricted areas in French North and West Africa previous to the Allied landings now are liberated.

The official announcement was hailed as marking "the climax of months of effort, involving close co-operation between British, American and French authorities for the solution of a complex problem."

Complete liberty of movement and the right to work where they please was given those released from work companies last February 12, employed in the Mediterranean-Niger railway or coal mines at Kenadza and whose residence heretofore has been restricted.

The commission revealed that "with the exception of a few individuals who of their own free will signed contracts with these companies and prefer to remain, all former internees and members of work companies have left this region."

Our gravest mistake about Japan is the belief that 97 years of imitating another race can change the soul of people.

Utah Governor Warns Agencies Are 'Not Good'

Sees Bureaus As Peril To Democracy, Undermining Sovereignty Of People

URGES TRANSFER OF POWERS TO STATES

By CARL TURNER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

COLUMBUS, O., June 23.—Terming the mushroom growth of government by bureaus as "not good in a democracy," Gov. Herbert B. Maw, of Utah, today urged the 35th annual governors' conference to support a movement to transfer the administration of peacetime activities from federal bureaus to the states.

"Though I believe that we should all sustain the programs of the bureaus during the war and do whatever official Washington thinks is necessary to win the conflict," Maw said, "I sincerely think that we will have lost most of what we are fighting for if we do not throw the weight of our forces behind a well-worked-out program to maintain the sovereignty of the people in the complicated mechanism of modern government."

Governor Maw said the American people are losing their sovereignty over the government in exact proportion to the amount of increase in the scope of federal bureau activities.

"It is for that reason," he said, "that I urge this conference to set up machinery whereby a new and different federal-state relationship might be worked out after the war has ended."

No Control of Bureaus
"Today the bureaus are non-political. They owe allegiance to no party; they are affected by no elections. They are not controlled by the will of the public."
"Yet they are one of the strongest single influences in the nation, throwing weight of their huge voting power not necessarily in support of those candidates of either party who are striving to carry out the mandates of the voters, but in support of those who will sustain them in their bureaucratic security and who will not disrupt their organizations."

SEARCH BADLANDS OF DAKOTA FOR SOLDIER HELD SAFE IN CRASH

(International News Service)

RAPID CITY, S. D., June 23.—Search continued today for a soldier believed to have parachuted when a four-motored bomber from the Rapid City army air base crashed Sunday in the craggy South Dakota badlands, killing eight men.

Civilians four miles from the crash area reported they saw a "chute billow out as the plane started down."

The army bomber, on a routine flight, crashed at the edge of Red Shirt Table, in a corner of a rugged area used as a bombing range.

FARMS AND FARMERS OF LAWRENCE COUNTY

By Lewis C. Dayton, County Agent

PASTURE MANAGEMENT CAN COMBAT FEED SHORTAGE

With the feed situation approaching an extremely critical stage, it is necessary for every dairyman to make the best possible use of his available feed.

Pastures have grown remarkably well this spring, but that growth may stop very suddenly if pasture grass is allowed to mature seed. For this reason it is almost essential that all pastures which are showing seed heads, be clipped without delay in order to keep the grass growing. This clipping should be done before the 1st of July or most of its value will be lost.

Unless the growth of grass is so heavy that the clippings will smother the young growth, it need not be removed.

The shortage of protein makes it extremely advisable that all hay be cut sufficiently early that the protein content will be maintained at a high level. Nothing which a dairyman can do will pay him better dividends than clipping his pasture and putting up his hay early.

There is a continuing shortage of Cow Testers throughout the State. A short course will be given July 7, prospectively, starting at 7:30 a. m. Any men, women, boys, or girls who are interested in information on this course, should contact the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle at once.

PENN STATE TO TRAIN ASSOCIATION TESTERS

Pennsylvania ranks first among the states in the number of dairy herd improvement association with 118 in operation. Each of these associations must have a tester to continue active operation.

During the past few years many vacancies have occurred in the ranks of testers. To fill these openings created by competition of industry and the calling of men by selective service, the Pennsylvania State College has given periodical training courses.

The next course will be given July 7 to 21. This course will be open to girls as well as boys and to women as well as men. At present a number of girls are serving very creditably as testers.

"Anyone interested in taking the training course is asked to notify County Agent, Lewis C. Dayton, who will forward names and addresses to the College. He also can give additional information about the course and the nature of the work a tester does."

BLACK ROT DISEASE IS THREAT TO GRAPES

Because of the weather conditions, the year 1943 promises to go down in history as one of the most disastrous from the plant disease standpoint.

Black rot of grapes is now appearing as spots on the leaves. Since these spots are not very conspicuous, many growers of grapes may not notice them until the disease has affected the fruit clusters.

By examination of the spots the growers will find there are pimples on them. In these pimples, spores are produced which go to the fruit and develop the black rot. The disease causes the fruit to shrivel and dry up.

In view of the fact that we need grapes for food, growers are urged to do everything possible to prevent spread of the black rot. The suggested treatment is an application at once of 2-8-100 Bordeaux mixture. Another application should be given the grapes in about 10 days.

Further information on the control for black rot and other plant diseases may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

LEAF SPOT DISEASE HITS SOUR CHERRIES

Considerable cherry leaf spot disease on sour cherries has been found in Lawrence County. If sprays are not applied much defoliation may result.

Cherry leaf spot is very destructive and spreads rapidly during wet weather. The spores on the diseased leaves are washed to the unprotected foliage during showers and rains. Severe spotting, yellowing and defoliation of leaves will result.

Bordeaux mixture 2-8-100 is recommended to prevent the further spread of this disease. One-half pound of skim milk or one-fourth pound of soybean flour to 100 gallons insures coverage of the leaves. It is necessary to cover the undersides of the leaves because infection occurs only through the stomata of the leaves. Bordeaux mixture must be sprayed on dry foliage. Spraying of wet leaves will result in copper injury.

On sweet cherries 1½ gallons of lime sulphur in 100 gallons of water is recommended to control leaf spot and brown rot. Bordeaux mixture must not be used on sweet cherries since it is likely to cause injury.

BUCKWHEAT MAY HELP IN GRAIN SITUATION

Continued rains and wet soils prevented or reduced the sowing of oats and the planting of corn on many farms this spring. Almost the only grain crop which can be planted this late is buckwheat.

Buckwheat is a crop viewed with scorn by many good farmers, but it will produce grain, and grain of any sort may be sorely needed for livestock and poultry feed this coming winter—and difficult to buy.

About 12 weeks are required for buckwheat to mature, and it may be sown as late as that period is assured before killing frost. Too early sowing may cause bloom during hot weather which seems to blast the flowers and result in a light set. The crop will grow on almost any soil and in any section of the state. Yields run from 20 to 40 bushels with 25 to 30 bushels, under good conditions, quite common. It can be harvested with a combine and therefore requires little labor.

About a bushel an acre is the common rate of seeding, but if drilled carefully on a well-prepared seedbed, 2 or 3 pecks often will produce excellent crops. Buckwheat requires little fertilizer, 150 to 200 pounds of superphosphate to the acre in making strawberry as well as acre being adequate on fairly fertile soils and 200 pounds of 0-14-7 or 2-12-6 on poorer land.

Tartary, also known as rye or goose buckwheat, is quite satisfactory for feed and often yields more than common buckwheat but it cannot be used for human consumption. It requires a little longer season, and 2 pecks an acre is an adequate seeding.

Buckwheat seed seems very scarce this season, especially as regards commercial sources. Local combine or threshers operators may serve as contacts with local supplies. Seed especially that older than one year, should be tested for germination before seeding.

Buckwheat stubble may be harrowed and seeded to wheat or rye with a liberal application of complete fertilizer. This rotation will reduce winter washing, furnish a grain crop next year, and a place to seed. Where winter grain is not to be sown, it is a good practice to sow about 6 to 8 pounds of rye grass with the buckwheat, using the grass seed box on the drill or broadcaster it after drilling. There is little additional cost with this practice and it may give a winter cover and something to plow down in the spring. Clover and timothy with the buckwheat will seldom catch unless the buckwheat is thin and the season unusually favorable.

SHAPE THE CHRISTMAS TREES DURING JUNE

New growth on pines, spruces, and firs is completed during the month of June. When this growth is near completion is the time to shear the trees for symmetry and compactness.

Many Christmas tree growers follow a regular schedule of shearing operations on the trees to keep them compact and symmetrical. They begin when the trees are three to four years old and continue it on all trees which show signs of developing irregular crowns.

BERRY JAMS CAN HELP STRETCH BUTTER SUPPLY

Strawberry jam is one delicious spread that can help to stretch the butter ration. Strawberries in themselves are a fairly sweet berry and give a home-made jam a delicious taste. Strawberry jam is a good extension representative, Lawrence County.

To make jam using less sugar, pick over, hull, and wash two or three quarts of strawberries. Put into a pan crushing part of them. This gives some juice to start the cooking and prevent scorching. Cook, stirring often until berries reach the desired jam consistency. Add one to one and a half cups of sugar for each quart of fruit, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Return to stove and continue cooking until jam stage is again reached. Remove from fire and cool for five minutes. Stir to get rid of froth. Pour into clean hot jars, seal, and process five minutes in boiling water bath. Because of the smaller amount of sugar used, processing is necessary to keep down the growth of mold.

At least three cups of sugar must be used to every cup of berries if the jam is to be sealed with paraffin and not processed.

Corn sirup or honey may be used

other jams. Substitute one-half of the sugar, by cupfuls, with honey or corn sirup. One pound of honey or corn sirup is about one and one-third cups. If the recipe for strawberry jam calls for two pounds of sugar, use two cups or one pound of sugar and one and one-third of corn sirup.

It may be necessary to cook the jam a little longer to reach the desired consistency when using honey or corn sirup.

These directions may be followed for making jams other than strawberry.

COVER CROPS NEEDED IN CARE OF ORCHARD

The importance of a cover crop in the peach orchard is not fully appreciated by many growers.

Use of commercial fertilizers alone is insufficient to maintain soil fertility. Clean cultivation in spring and early summer encourages washing and tends to increase the rate of loss of organic matters from the soil. A better plan is partial destruction of the cover through early cultivation and allowing enough to remain for checking soil washing.

Sustained high production is dependent upon the maintenance of a high level of soil organic matter and the successful control of soil losses from washing. A good cover crop serves both purposes.

Domestic ryegrass is the most widely used of any cover crop in Pennsylvania peach orchards. The seed is relatively cheap. The crop grows slowly during what is usually the hottest and driest part of the summer, and thus it does not compete seriously with the tree for moisture. Toward autumn, growth is more rapid, resulting in a dense cover which survives the winter, is highly resistant to washing, and adds a large amount of organic matter to the soil.

The domestic ryegrass usually is seeded at the rate of 20 pounds per acre in the peach orchard the last half of June. Superphosphate or a mixed fertilizer carrying phosphate and potash, such as 0-14-7, is generally used when the cover crop is seeded. Applications range from 200 to 400 pounds to the acre, depending upon soil fertility and previous applications.

Anti-Strike Bill Remains Unsigned As Deadline Nears

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—As the deadline for presidential action on the Smith-Connally anti-strike bill approached, there was still no indication at the White House today of whether Mr. Roosevelt would approve or veto the bill, or permit it to become law without his signature.

At his regular news conference, Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early declared that he was not able to say what action the chief would take. The deadline for signing the bill is midnight, June 25.

Official observers in Washington, however, felt that with the temporary settlement of the coal strike, the urgency for immediate action on the measure had been removed.

It was felt in some quarters that President Roosevelt would not sign the bill, because, if that had been his decision, he would have acted before Lewis led his mine workers out of the mines last Sunday at midnight.

There was a distinct possibility that Mr. Roosevelt would veto the bill as being too drastic. Administration forces in Capitol Hill feel that there is not sufficient strength in the house and senate to override a presidential veto.

CALLS WAR COMMAND

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—President Roosevelt today summoned his military and naval high command to the White House for a conference to discuss war developments.

Those who met with the President included Mr. Roosevelt's personal chief of staff, Admiral William D. Leahy; head of the army air forces, Gen. H. H. Arnold; army deputy chief of staff, Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, and vice Admiral R. S. Edwards, the latter chief of staff to Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet.

Forbid Salaries To Three Men In Employ Of U. S.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—House and senate conferees on a $143,630,591 deficiency bill today agreed to forbid use of any of the funds to pay salaries of Dr. Robert Morse Lovette, and two other federal employees accused by the Dies committee of subversive activities.

Lovette, former professor at the University of Chicago, is now secretary of the Virgin Islands. The two accused with him are Dr. Goodwin B. Watson, and William E. Dodd, Jr., both employees of the Federal Communications Commission. The latter is a son of the late United States ambassador to Germany.

Inasmuch as both houses are virtually bound to adopt the conference reports, the administration fight to keep Lovette, Watson and Dodd on the government payroll was considered lost.

CHARGE RATION RULES VIOLATED

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 23.—District O.P.A. offices today summoned for a special hearing a wholesaler and 14 merchants accused of making purchases from him without surrendering nearly 300,000 ration points.

The dealer, Henry C. Kennedy, Jr., of Harrisburg, who will enter the services shortly, was in the wholesale provision and frozen food business. O.P.A. said the hearing was a "suspension hearing" and not a criminal case.

Among the establishments summoned for the hearing was the student officers' mess of the army air force intelligence school, Harrisburg, said to have made purchases without supplying 200 ration points.

ARTHUR MCGILL SCHOOL VANDALS FACE PENALTY

School authorities said today that there has been trouble with boys looting at night in the vicinity of Arthur McGill school and willfully breaking windows there. Already it has been necessary to replace a number of panes of glass in the windows.

For such vandalism, there is a severe penalty. Superintendent Frank L. Burton pointed out, and said that as a last resort to protect school property it will be necessary for the school policeman to make information against the boys responsible.

There is a severe penalty involved as Section 628 of the school laws of Pennsylvania provides that in such cases offenders may be subjected to a fine of from $5 to $200 and in addition may be sentenced to six months imprisonment in the county jail.

Draft Quota For August Reduced

Further Delay In Induction
Of Fathers Into Army
Is Forecast

By WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—A further postponement in the induction of fathers was in prospect today with Sen. Wheeler (D) Mont., disclosing that he has been informed that the August military draft quota has been reduced from 238,000 to 150,000 men.

Wheeler also revealed that he has been informed that proportionate cuts will be made in draft calls in succeeding months as other indications of a delay in the induction of married men with children came from high selective service and manpower officials.

In a message to the 35th governor's conference in Columbus, Ohio, Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt said that fathers will be taken only when there are no more single men to be had who can properly be spared from vital occupations.

Major Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national draft director, also told the conference that fathers will be called only when it is to the national interest.

Action of the War Manpower commission in recently limiting occupational deferments for men between the ages of 18 to 25 to a six-month period delayed any general call for fathers at least to Oct. 1.

Call Of Fathers Delayed
By reducing the draft quotas beginning in August, as disclosed by Wheeler, the call of fathers to the colors is expected to be postponed still further.

Draft quotas were expected to be reduced, but not so soon. McNutt recently told congress that the rate of induction would be cut 60 percent after December.

Wheeler's disclosure that quotas would be cut came after he took the senate floor to protest against the drafting of married men with dependents and attacked the "waste, inefficiency and confusion" in the administration's handling of the war program on the home front.

He called upon congress to settle the manpower and other questions. Wheeler said that "fathers can fight more successfully—more effectively—and more permanently for the welfare of the nation by fighting on the home front."

"If they are needed on the farms, or in the mine or factory, by all means let us put them there to replace single men, or young married men who have no children," he said.

Navy To Abandon Palatial Rest Home In Poconos

(International News Service)
SCRANTON, Pa., June 23.—Plans were underway today by the Navy to abandon its palatial rest home for naval officers in the Poconos. The $1,000,000 structure will be returned to its owners when the government's lease expires on June 30.

Lt. Cmdr. John B. (Jack) Sutherland, former football coach of the University of Pittsburgh and the Brooklyn Dodgers, who is in charge, was ordered to move the personnel and equipment. Sutherland said the plan to abandon "Pocono Manor" as a naval rest home was a "purely routine" matter. It was established nearly a year ago.

State Falls Behind In Scrap Campaign

HARRISBURG, June 23.—Pennsylvania collected more than 245,000 tons of metal scrap during the spring campaign but the state apparently will fall short of the 376,000-ton goal fixed for the first six months of the year, the state defense council announced today.

Preliminary reports, the council explained, disclosed that 1596 salvage committees had turned in 239,690 tons, while public and parochial schools accounted for 5196 tons and the commonwealth, through the department of property and supplies, only 1,003 tons.

Simultaneously, the council reported that 1,259 tons of cans were shipped to detinning plants in May. The council, however, urged greater savings of tins because only 20 pounds of pure tin come from 2,000 pounds of salvaged cans.

Collect 70,000 Pheasant Eggs

Hatching Season At Jordan State Game Farm Is Now In Progress

With its brooders full with 12,500 chicks for the first fill, the Jordan State Game Farm is in complete production. Birds have been hard to brood this year due to so much wet weather and there has been a higher mortality rate than last year. But brooders will be filled again with another 12,500 chicks as soon as the first fill is six weeks old.

Since the start of the season, 1800 ringneck pheasant hens have laid 70,000 eggs. Of these, approximately 47,000 have been set during the spring in the game farm's fully automatic incubator, in which the eggs turn every three hours for 20 days. Capacity of the setting unit is 22,000 eggs. From this unit, settings of from 3000 to 6400 eggs are tested for fertility and then placed in the hatcher which is a separate unit.

When a setting is as large as 6400 eggs, 1400 of the eggs must be hatched in auxiliary small hatches which the game farm has had for several years as the capacity of the large hatcher at the farm is only 5000 eggs.

Jordan Game Farm has shipped out 9000 day-old chicks this spring for sportsmen's clubs to raise, and 600 six-week-old birds will be shipped to sportsmen very soon.

Superintendent Kenneth N. Brennan says his present plan is to ship 4000 hen birds for liberation in the fall and hold over 10,000 birds for spring liberation.

During February and March nearly 10,000 mature birds were shipped and trucked to the wilds of Pennsylvania where they were liberated. Those who have the opportunity to hunt next fall should find good hunting.

Blood Donors Who Cannot Come Asked To Call In Early

Blood donors who find when they receive their appointment cards from the Red Cross chapter house that the time they have been asked to come to the First Presbyterian church to give their contribution to the blood plasma work of the Red Cross, is not a convenient one and that it will be necessary for them to change their appointment time are asked to contact the chapter house as soon as they know they cannot come at the time specified.

In cases where a donor may find it necessary to cancel his appointment, he is asked to call the chapter house not later than the morning of the day he is scheduled to come, so that one of the people who are on the donor waiting list may be contacted and given a chance to fill the appointment.

As donors are notified of their appointment time a week in advance by mail and the schedule sheet for each day's appointments is sent to the church in advance of the start of each day's work it is impossible for those who are scheduling appointments to fill a cancelled appointment at the last minute.

If you are asked for an appointment and you can't keep it, call the chapter house for another time or to let someone who is waiting have his chance.

Strong Post-War Army Is Urged

Governor Martin Urges Compulsory Military Training For High School Graduates

MAKES ADDRESS TO GOVERNORS' SESSION

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., June 23.—Compulsory military training of high school graduates for service in a strong post-war army was advocated today by Gov. Edward Martin in an address before the conference of governors at Columbus, O.

Governor Martin, a retired major general and veteran of three wars, outlined a six-point plan for post-war national defense centering around the regular army, the National Guard, and a reserve corps. "In order that the difference components may have the officer and enlisted strength required for the various units," he asserted, "this country should approve a system of selective training. In this way every young man, at the close of his high school work, would serve in the regular army for a certain period, or in the National Guard for a longer period—and then in the reserve."

Opportunity To Serve
"This would give every able-bodied American his opportunity to serve," he declared. "It would give us a continually trained reserve in case of a national emergency."

The governor stated as his fifth and sixth points that industries should be organized to make munitions "should war come" and that "during the period of the war no post-war policies or plans of post-war defense should be considered which might cause controversy among the components of the army."

The chief executive pointed out, however, that the size of the defensive army would "depend upon the position of this country when the war ends." He explained that "if we take a lasting part in policing the world, our regular army and navy must be correspondingly greater."

He urged peace on the home front asserting that "because of our limited manpower and supplies, all delays, wastage and lost man-hours must be avoided; the direction of manpower and production is of the highest importance."

Governor Martin lauded the National Guard as the "most ideal army plan." The organization is composed of citizens who give a part of their time to military duties. "The actual expense of maintaining a big regular army would be heavy, but the heaviest burden would come from the withdrawal of a great number of able-bodied men from production," he said.

DRIVING TO SUMMER VACATION SPOTS IS INCLUDED UNDER BAN

In answer to numerous inquiries, the Pittsburgh district Office of Price Administration points out that travel by automobile to resorts, beaches, summer homes, or for vacation purposes is not permissible for passenger cars under the pleasure driving ban.

O.P.A. said that one trip is permissible for the closing of a summer home which had been opened prior to the pleasure ban provided it is necessary for a person to go to the summer home for this purpose and only if other transportation is inadequate.

Eviction Notices Must Be Sent To Pittsburgh Office

(Special To The News)
PITTSBURGH, June 23.—Reverend Charles Owen Rice, Pittsburgh area rent director, announced today that notices of eviction should not be sent to branch offices but should be sent directly to the Pittsburgh area rent office, 401 Fulton building, Pittsburgh.

Rent regulations specifically call for the delivery of the notice within certain time limits to the area rent office, he said, and the legal time required before an eviction can be effective, begins as of the arrival of the notice at the area rent office.

Father Rice emphasized that tenants may be evicted, only for cause, and that certain reasons such as non-payment of rent and grave misuse of property, etc., are provided for in the regulations. In other cases evictions may be only through certificates from the Pittsburgh office, the director stated.

In no case may a tenant be evicted because the landlord no longer wants him as a tenant or merely because his lease has expired, Father Rice pointed out.

NO PRIORITY FOR AIR RAID SIREN ALREADY BOUGHT

(International News Service)
AURORA, Ill., June 23.—Mayor Andrew J. Carter told today of his surprise on receiving from the war production board notice that Aurora could not obtain a certificate of priority to purchase an air raid siren. The mayor wrote back:

"What do you mean we can't? The siren was delivered to the city last Thursday and it is paid for."

The mayor said he would go ahead with plans to install the siren in the tower of the city hall—unless government officials take steps to replevin it.

Questions and answers below explain the provisions of the current tax payment act of 1943, and are prepared by the treasury department in Washington.

Q. What happens if the amount of my "withholding exemption" changes during the year?

A. You should furnish your employer a new withholding exemption certificate within 10 days of such change in order that your employer may give effect at the earliest date required by law to the change in your marital status or the number of your dependents.

Q. Is my employer required to withhold exactly 20 per cent of my pay above my exemption?

A. No. Your employer may elect to use the "wage bracket tables" provided by law which vary slightly from exact computations at 20 per cent. These tables set definite amounts to be withheld from each pay. For example, in the case of married employees with three dependents, whose weekly wage is anywhere between $50 and $60, the employer is authorized to withhold a flat amount of $2.60 per week, instead of requiring him to figure the exact amount for each individual employee. The law grants the employer this "short cut" method in order to simplify his job of computing the amount to be withheld for each individual worker. However, cases where "wage bracket" tables are used, the amount of tax withheld will be only slightly different from an exact computation of 20 per cent.

Q. Isn't a large part of last year's income tax cancelled or "forgiven"?

A. Yes, from 75 to 100 per cent, depending upon the amount of your taxes for the years 1942 and 1943.

Q. How about that part which is not cancelled?

A. The part which is not cancelled you still owe to the government. You pay it in equal parts in March 1944 and March 1945.

Q. Since three-fourths of last year's taxes are cancelled and I paid one quarter this past March, doesn't that clear me up on my 1942 tax?

A. No. Your quarterly payment of March 15 applies on your 1943 tax. So does the June 15 payment which must be made. If part of your 1942 tax is "unforgiven" you still owe it to the government as part of your 1943 tax liability. Payment of one half of that balance is due in March 1944, and payment of the other half in March 1945.

Q. Then the payment of one-fourth I made in March, added to the forgiveness of three-fourths does not free me from paying another quarterly installment on or before June 15?

A. No. You are still required to make that June 15 payment.

Q. What happens to the money my employer withholds?

A. The money withheld from your wages is paid by your employer to the United States treasury. The amount withheld from you stands to your credit at the treasury against the amount you owe on income and victory tax.

Q. Does the employer have the use of money that he has withheld?

A. No. The amount of tax withheld from your wages by your employer is a special fund in trust for the United States.

Q. What proof have I that I have that much credit against my taxes?

A. Shortly after the close of the year or termination of your employment you will be furnished a receipt by your employer showing the amount of the tax deducted and withheld from your pay.

Q. Is the withholding tax an additional income tax like the victory tax?

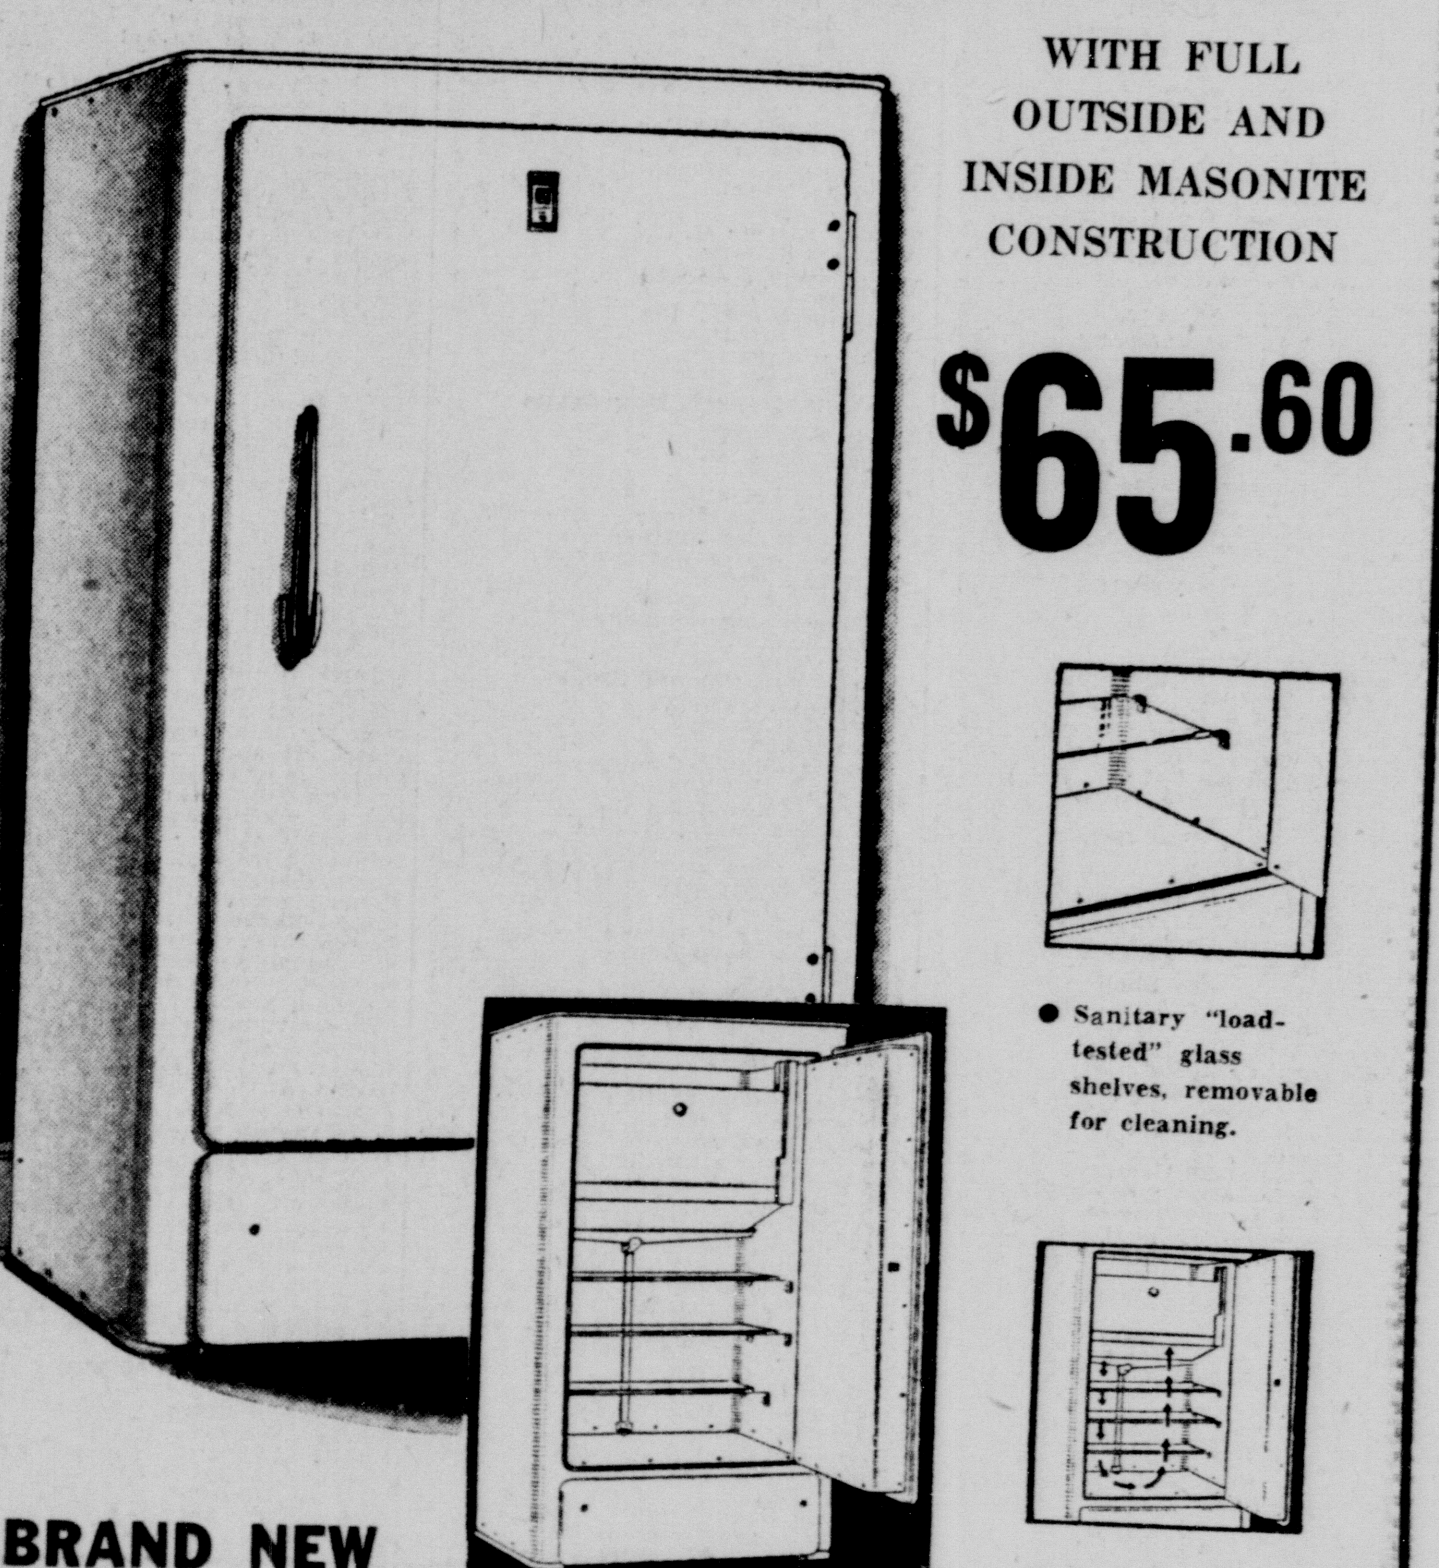

A. No. It's a deduction from your pay which goes toward paying your regular income tax, including the victory tax.

American And British Fliers Work In Unison

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially For International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 23—The combined bombing attacks, night and day for twenty-four hours, which have just taken place against Hitler's Western Fortress Europe, are proof positive of the extreme degree of coordination and synchronization that exists on the British Isles between the RAF and the United States army air force.

In these raids, which occurred within 24 hours, it is estimated that a thousand planes dropped 3,000 to 3,500 tons of bombs. That's 7,000,000 pounds of explosives. We may rest assured that Axis Europe knows something is happening.

Huge Manufacturing City
The Rhineland city of Krefeld is a huge manufacturing center of war material. Special steels are fabricated and armor plate is made there. It is a production center for hard coal, sulphuric acid, and textiles for parachutes. It is a rail junction of importance. The city has a population of 170,000 people.

During the night, a great flight of RAF bombers estimated at about 700 planes, caused death and devastation to that Rhineland city by raining down 2,000 tons of two-to-four ton block-busters. The four ton bombs have been known to destroy buildings over a six acre area.

During the day following, flying fortresses of the American air force bombed rubber factories in the Ruhr valley and the General Motors plant near Antwerp, Belgium. The RAF struck simultaneously at Rotterdam.

Difficulties In Control
Few persons stop to realize the difficulties of controlling so many planes in the air at one time, particularly on a precision bombing mission. The bomber and fighter squadrons must leave from numerous fields, probably separated by many miles. They must then take up attack formation at some given place in the air by split second timing.

These several combined attacks made by the Allied Air forces from the British Isles are another proof of the wonderful team work that has been developed in the European and Mediterranean theatres of war between the units of different countries.

All of our pilots and air crews in this country are trained with the greatest thoroughness in all of the detail of their duties, including navigation. Radio work, air gunnery, etc. They are then assembled and trained in the smaller units of air command. With maneuvers for massed flying, their educations are entirely complete. This is one of the biggest reasons why, in every combat in this war, our pilots shot down more enemy planes than they themselves lost.

SEEK TO SPEED DELIVERY PLAN

Truck Operators, Shippers And Receivers In Conference On Freight Deliveries

In an effort to speed deliveries, save time, conserve equipment and manpower, truck operators, shippers and receivers of freight will cooperate more closely in the future, if a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in The Castleton hotel bears fruit.

At the meeting were representatives of trucking companies, industries and merchants. Roger Jewett, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association opened the meeting and explained that delays at the loading docks were resulting in delays in delivery. He cited the fact that equipment was almost impossible to get and that gasoline must be conserved and then turned the meeting over to J. Fred Clarke, president of the Lawrence County Chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association.

Mr. Clarke said the truck operators were just as anxious to get war materials to the delivery point as were the manufacturers and said that in some communities a cooperative plan has been worked out between the shippers and truckers whereby the shipper or receiver scheduled the truck arrivals and then held to the schedule and also aided in loading and unloading trucks.

Harry Boyd, area representative of the office of defense transportation, was present and said his office would aid in every manner it could. The upshot of the meeting was a committee, with representatives of truckers, shippers and receivers to work out the problem to the joint satisfaction of all.

INSTALL PASTOR AT PRESBYTERY

Shenango Presbytery Meets At Moravia Church; Assembly-Synod Reports Given

Rev. Bruce E. Robinson was ordained and installed as pastor of Moravia Presbyterian church on Tuesday when members of Shenango Presbytery held an all day meeting in Moravia church.

A number of the Presbytery members were absent attending a school of religion at Western Seminary, Pittsburgh. A visiting minister was Rev. W. A. Webb of Harrisburg, pastor of Olivet church there and home pastor of Mr. Robinson.

The commissioners to general assembly held in Detroit May 27 to June 3, Dr. Grant E. Fisher of New Castle and Elder W. M. Armstrong of Volant, made their reports. The number of commissioners to general assembly was cut almost in half this year, there being slightly over 500 present instead of the usual 900. One of the prominent facts brought out was that 100 or more missionaries are to be sent to the South American countries soon, there being a special opening and desire for missionaries there now.

Another fact was that Sunday school attendance all over Presbyterian churches, like that of sister denominations, is low and has been diminishing over a period of years. There are, at present, 522 Presbyterian ministers in the clergy of the armed forces, and it is expected that 200 more will be in that service by December 31. The special fund of over a million dollars in the year ending May 27 was raised for work made necessary by war conditions.

The commissioners to Synod of Pennsylvania held at Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa., were Dr. John Orr of New Wilmington, Rev. Stewart Harr of West Middlesex, Elder E. C. Hulbert of Mahoningtown and Elder J. Ellis Bell of First church, Ellwood City. One of the questions that came up was that of equality between the colored and white races.

The installation of Mr. Robinson took place in the afternoon. He was received from the Presbytery of Carlisle as a licensee and was examined and ordained to the gospel ministry by the laying on of hands of the ministers of Presbytery and prayer. In the evening, Dr. Arthur M. Stevenson, Ellwood City, presided. He preached the installation sermon and propounded the constitutional questions to the congregation and the minister. The charge to the people was given by Rev. W. F. Byers of Neshannock church, New Wilmington, and the charge to the pastor was delivered by Rev. W. A. Webb. A reception for Mr. Robinson and his wife, with refreshments being served, was held in the church basement after the evening service.

The next meeting of Shenango Presbytery is to be held in the First Presbyterian church, New Castle, on Tuesday, September 21.

Road Builder Addresses Lions

Post-War Highway Plans Are Discussed By Paul B. Reinhold Of Pittsburgh

Lion club members heard an interesting address at their noon luncheon meeting, Tuesday, in The Castleton, when Paul B. Reinhold, of Pittsburgh, vice president of the American Road Builders association, discussed "Highways of the Future". Mr. Reinhold started with the development of highways in this country in the early 1900's, and traced the progress made up to 1932, where the bulk of real concrete highway building stopped. Little progress has been made since that time, Mr. Reinhold pointed out, although several fine highways such as the Pennsylvania Turnpike were completed during that period.

Roads have been deteriorating since 1934 in this country, he pointed out, and although we have 2,269,000 miles of improved highways, 78 per cent of these are less than 20 feet in width. He stated that a road program calling for expenditure of around three billion dollars per year have been projected by the American Road Builders association for the post-war period, although administration leaders are planning a glorified WPA. He stated that the roads projected by the Road Builders are to be built by private enterprise, and made a plea for the return of all such projects to private enterprise.

Governor Opposes Rate Reductions Sought By South

Proposed Freight Changes Would Hamper Free Flow Of Goods In North

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 23—Vigorous opposition was voiced today by Gov. Edward Martin to proposed rate reductions sought by Southwestern and Southern States in rail and water freight charges.

Attorney General James H. Duff has filed a petition with the interstate commerce commission asking permission to intervene in the investigation of freight classifications by the Federal Agency.

"We will oppose vigorously any proposed changes in the freight rate structure which would result unfavorably upon Pennsylvania industry," the governor stated. "The resources and full support of the state government will be exerted to combat proposals which would hamper the free flow of our raw materials and manufactured products or would impede the continuance of Pennsylvania's splendid war production record into the post-war period."

Pennsylvania is included in the "official classification territory" embracing the area east of the Mississippi river and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers, it was explained. Because of the heavy freight traffic, while higher charges are fixed on shipments originating in other sections of the country. The southern and southwestern states have asked the I. C. C. to fix rates upon the basis of the shipment's destination rather than the point of origin.

Such a change would have the effect of lowering rates on goods shipped from the south into the official territory and to increase the rates on shipments from the north into the south, it was claimed.

"The location of many war industries in the south and west has intensified the efforts of those sections to retain these industries for the production of peace time goods to be marketed in the north after the war," officials of the commerce department stated.

No Drill Of Defense Corps Unit This Week

Commander William E. Ferver of the Pennsylvania Defense Corps Auxiliary announced today that no drill session of the auxiliary will be held this week.

Regular drill will take place on Thursday evening of next week, however, when in addition to the drill session, there will be instruction and a demonstration of "Judo" the art of self defense.

ALLEGED VIOLATORS OF OPA RULES WAIT IN VAIN FOR HEARING

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 23 — The desk and chair of the OPA hearing commissioner, were dusted and his ink well freshly filled, but at pleasure driving violators waited in vain last night for the judge who didn't show up.

About six motorists appeared for hearings at the night court where doors were open and lights burning at 8 o'clock. But by 10 o'clock there were still no court officials, and the alleged violators, tired of waiting, left for home. A night watchman came in, turned out the lights, and closed up.

Germans also "fought to the last" while they were winning. Surrender will come easier when the Japs realize their cause is lost.

The rest-pause that refreshes

Welcome in peace... more welcome in war work

MANAGERS and personnel directors will tell you that regular rest-pauses plus the refreshment of ice-cold Coca-Cola increase contentment in their plants. Thus production is increased. A pause for Coca-Cola is a little thing in itself, but one of the little things that brighten a busy day.

You might think it strange that workers have such a welcome for a 5¢ soft drink. But Coca-Cola has something all its own in goodness. Made with a finished art, its taste always pleases. More than just quenching thirst, it brings a happy after-sense of complete refreshment. The only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself.

The best is always the better buy!

Letters from plant managers from coast to coast emphasize that the little moment for an ice-cold Coca-Cola means a lot to workers in war plants. It's a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things... a way to turn to refreshment without turning from work.

A breathing spell, a rest-pause and ice-cold Coca-Cola. Contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.

PAYS OWN EXPENSES
(International News Service)
AUSTIN, Tex.—An unusual and possible unique aspect of Governor Coke Stevenson's administration is the fact that he had declined to charge up his traveling expenses against the state. When the governor makes a trip to speak to a convention or a luncheon club or to inaugurate a rodeo, or what-not, he foots the bill himself, figuring that making such appearances is not a part of the official duties of the chief executive.

(International News Service Writer)
NEW YORK, June 23.—Spurred only a few days ago as a team that was falling apart at the seams, the Brooklyn Dodgers are now making another spirited bid for National League supremacy. That their spirit toward the flag had strength and significance was shown yesterday when the Bums took their fourth straight victory with a 7 to 4 win over the New York Giants.

The Dodgers were trailing by one run when Dixie Walker started off a sixth-inning rebellion with a single. Angie Gahan and Bobbie Bragan walked, and Joe Medwick singled in two runs. Arky Vaughan doubled in two more, and the last run was singled across by Paul Waner.

Thus, the Dodgers squared accounts with the Giants, who had handed the Bums three straight thrashings last week, and Rube Fischer, who beat them with a seven-hitter last Wednesday.

Yanks Beaten, 3-2
The Washington Senators staged an eighth-inning mutiny to overcome the New York Yankees, 3 to 2, and reduce New York's American League lead to two games. At the start of the eighth, Hank Borowy had a one-run lead, but the Senators reached him for a single and two triples to steal the victory.

Senators first baseman Mickey Vernon led the Washington attack, slamming out a homer in the fourth and a triple that sent the tying run across in the eighth. Later, Vernon crossed the platter with the winning run.

The Boston Braves edged out the Philadelphia Phillies, 7 to 6, with a second inning five-run rally off Southpaw Jack Kraus. Although he was credited with the victory, Manny Salvo was blasted out of the box in the seventh inning when Babe Dahlgren's single drove in two runs.

Mas's homer with one aboard in the fifth clinched victory for the Braves, while Coker Triplett hit his third home run for the Phillies in the sixth.

A lucky break and a single gave the Chicago Cubs a 1 to 0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in a morning game.

Until the seventh, Paul Derringer and Johnny Podgajny twirled scoreless ball. Bob Elliot was hurt in the second inning by a hard hit ball that bounced off his noggin, and Johnny Wryostek was substituted.

In the seventh, Wryostek threw wild on Harry Lowrey's roller, and Lowrey reached second. A single by Lennie Merullo brought in the only run of the game.

The Indians-Tigers game at Detroit was postponed because of the riot. The first time in the history of baseball that an issue of this sort has been projected with such force into the game.

In a night game at St. Louis the Chicago White Sox pounded Bob Muncie and Fritz Ostermueler for a dozen hits to beat the Browns 5 to 3. The victory moved the Sox out of the cellar position in the league standings.

Tex Hughson held the Philadelphia Athletics to five hits in a night game at Philadelphia as the Boston Red Sox won 7 to 1. It was Hughson's eighth win of the season and advanced Boston to a tie with Cleveland for third place.

CONNIE MACK PICKS 'MATTY'

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—Connie Mack, president-manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, believes that Christy Mathewson was the greatest of all pitchers.
"Others have picked Walter Johnson but I'll take Matty," said Mack. "He had great control, a fine curve, was fairly fast and studied every batter. But control was his greatest asset."

Diehl Disregards Medicos; Now Ace For Indianapolis

Told To Quit Mound, Twirler Balks; Now Starring In A. A. Loop

Back in the spring of 1941, doctors called in Jack Onslow, then managing Hartford in the Eastern league, and told him one of his hurlers, George Diehl, must quit pitching. They said he had a heart condition that would not let him carry on.

Onslow felt it his duty to tell the boy, but to his surprise, Diehl said he knew it all along. He said he'd keep right on pitching, doctors had been wrong before.

"If you don't quit," said Onslow, "the club will fire you and you can have a job in the business office or as coach."

"No dice," snapped Diehl. "Either I play in organized ball or I pitch on the sandlots."

The youngsters appeared in 21 games that season and came back the next year to work in 29.

Today A Star
Today, under colors of the Boston Braves, George Diehl is pitching for Donnie Bush and his Indianapolis Indians of the Class AA American Association.

Perhaps the medicos would say he was working on borrowed time, but Diehl keeps right on. He must have some of the stuff of which the late Lou Gehrig was made.

At present, Indianapolis is setting the pace in the American Association due, in a big way, to Diehl's pitching finesse.

HENRY JOYCE DATE JULY 24

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, June 23.—If he receives a final okeh from medicos, Henry Armstrong will climb into the Gilmore Stadium ring on July 24 for a 10-round twilight battle against Willie Joyce.

Originally set for June 26, the bout was postponed after Hammer's Henney had been severely sliced around the mouth by Sammy Angott in their New York title June 11.

The former triple-titleholder, now in St. Louis visiting relatives, will undergo a final physical examination by commission physician in Los Angeles next Monday.

Joyce, a decisionist Armstrong last month in a fight at Los Angeles Olympic auditorium, but received a broken jaw in the encounter.

Rookie's Dream May Come True

Seven years ago when Sam Rooney was a rookie infielder breaking in with McKeesport of the Penn State league, he said his ambition was to play for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

After a couple of seasons in the Class D minors, Rooney dropped out of the picture.

But a few days ago he came out of retirement and was signed by the Durham Bulls of the Piedmont league. The Bulls are farm hands of the Brooklyn Dodgers, the club upon which Rooney trained his sights seven years ago. Better late than never!

RYANTOWN WINS FROM FOREST CUBS

Shuler had four hits including a double and triple, while Veronesi had two doubles out of three hits to lead the attack of the winners. Davis held the Cubs to five bingles.

Last Friday the Ryantown Juniors won from the Ramblers, 6-2 and on Sunday defeated the Wolverines, 6-5.

Whirly Loses In 1943 Debut

Big Tail Takes Things Easy; Finishes Third In Chicago Event

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 23.—Close track followers were unworried today over the failure of the mighty Whirlaway to come home the winner as he launched his 1943 campaign yesterday with a mile gallop in the Arlington Park feature.

It was pointed out that the turf's greatest money winner, finishing third, had taken it easy in anticipation of possible participation Saturday in the $10,000 Equipoise mile and a more definite engagement in the $50,000 Stars and Stripes handicap July 5.

Just Limbers Up
With Whirlaway apparently just limbering up, his stablemate, Markell, a 4-year-old filly, protected the investment of fans in the Calumet entry by running the mile in 1:37 3-5 to finish two and a half lengths ahead of King's Abbey.

While Whirlaway didn't win, his third place was worth $250, which served to boost racing's greatest coin collection total to $561,161.

The Arlington meeting is being held this year at the Washington Park track.

FRITZIE JOINS ACTORS' GUILD

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 23.—Fritzie Zivic, former welterweight champ and famed "dancing master of the ring," may become a professional hooper, if he wants to. Yesterday Zivic took out his membership in the American Guild of Variety Actors of America.

Now with another "career" in mind, Zivic has nothing to fear in the way of employment. After his July 12 return fight with Jake Lamotta, Zivic may be booked as master of ceremonies at a local night club.

Members of the Wolves club bowling teams gathered Tuesday evening for their annual bowling banquet, at which time awards and trophies were presented.

The event commenced with the serving of a tasty spaghetti dinner served, followed by card playing and games. Award Prizes
Prize for the highest average (136) was awarded to Fred DeCarbo, and the second highest average (130) to Al Scarazzo. Prize for the highest single game was captured by Paul Failla, while the award for the top three games was won by Carm Sacco.

Pro Gridders To Branch Out In West Coast

Walsh Says Los Angeles Will Get Franchise During December Session

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Writer)
CHICAGO, June 23.—The agitated principals having mastered their emotions with a visible effort and gone gabbling off into the night, it can be told now that Los Angeles almost definitely will be admitted to membership in the National Professional Football League at its next general meeting in December. Just how or when the team, if any, will operate, if at all, is not clear at the moment even to its owner-to-be, Don Ameche, the Hollywood-flick-slick. But it seems that that's not particularly the point.

In fact, the significant thing right now is that professional football is beating major league baseball to the ordained and inevitable move into west coast territory—almost certainly in one spot, possibly in two.

Favors Coast Town
For Frank Mandell, of Chicago, who had $50,000 on the drum-head for a so-called "frozen" franchise in Boston, is known to like San Francisco as a base of operations after the war. And the league itself is understood to like Mandell, second only to the noteworthy manner in which it likes Ameche and Ted Collins.

The latter, when everything and everybody gets straightened away, including Hirohito, is scheduled to put his proposed franchise in Boston. So the present expectation is that the re-organized league will consist of the 10 original clubs, supplemented by Boston and Los Angeles — with the Mandell-San Francisco arrangement being possible only if one or more of the original 10 runs out of solvency, ideas, wages, man-power or sucker-appeal at the box office.

Segura Advances In Tennis Meet
(International News Service)
EVANSTON, Ill., June 23.—Swarthy little Francisco "Pancho" Segura of Guayaquil, Ecuador, today appeared ready to add the national collegiate singles tennis title to the eastern collegiate championship he won last week.

Carrying the banner of the University of Miami and employing his famed two-handed grip and sizzling forearm with devastating effect, Segura yesterday swept to an easy 6-1, 6-0 victory over Horace Flier of Depauw, in a second round match.

Another seeded favorite, Tom Brown, Jr., of California, faced Bob Wasserman of Ohio State, runner-up for the Big Ten crown, in another feature match.

Haegg Too Good For U. S. Runners

Displays Class Galore; Success Of Tour Depends On Swede Flash

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Editor)
NEW YORK, June 23.—Unless Gunder Haegg can beat or approach his records his American tour is going to be a sad flop.

The Swede is so good that everything depends entirely upon him. By this time it seems to be evident that he isn't going to get any competition. We can talk about Greg Rice getting into shape for 3,000 meters and about Gil Dodds running him at a mile, or the equivalent thereof. But, as a matter of fact, he stands alone—all by himself.

Moreover, Rice leaves immediately on a tour of duty at sea as a member of the Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, N. Y., and he will have to charter to train for a comeback effort against the man called Gunder the thunder and Haegg the leg.

Stands Alone
Dodds meantime might just as well save himself from the rigors of trying to get into shape for a clash at a shorter distance against the man who made his American debut on Sunday with a 40 yard win over Rice at 5,000 meters.

Gunder the Thunder is just what his advance notices claimed for him—the greatest runner that ever lived.

This Swede "is out of this world," as one New York track and field expert put it. He runs with the featherly tread of a sprite. They used to call Gene Venzke of Penn the dream runner, but Venzke, who was far inferior to the Swede on the clock, never saw the day when he could tear over the ground with such ease as this greatest of all runners.

There is a report now that sooner or later before he returns to Sweden he will try to run a mile in less than four minutes. He has friends among the Swedish newspaper men who say he can't miss if he is in top shape and conditions are right.

"He will run a mile in 3:58," one of them said with utter confidence.

May Do It
It will be worthwhile sitting in on the performance the day he tries it. In the first place he probably will do it if he has set his mind upon it, and secondly, even if he fails, his run will be worth watching. He is that kind of a runner.

Wherever he may be running, go watch him if you are interested in track and field. You'll never regret it. This comes from one who positively can take his track and field or skip it.

Haegg-Dodds Race July 10
Pair Slated To Match Stamina In Los Angeles' Large Coliseum

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, June 23.—Gunder Haegg, the Swedish thunderbolt, will sail against Gil Dodds, National AAU 1500-meter champion, in the Los Angeles coliseum July 10.

The Haegg-Dodds duel—in which the foreign sensation will attempt to crack his own two-mile record—was confirmed today by Arnold Eddy, South Pacific AAU secretary, in a letter from Dan Ferris, national secretary.

Two other attempts to shatter existing world records will be made in conjunction with the feature two-mile event, Eddy said.

In a special 500-yard sprint, Hal Davis—co-holder of the world's 100-yard dash mark—will compete against Cliff Bourland of the University of Southern California and John Fulton of Stanford.

Roland Sink, 18-year-old miler from South Pasadena high school, will attempt to establish a new interscholastic record in his specialty.

At this time, the contracts of all players must be turned in, and arrangements to pick the team which will represent the league in outside competition will get under way.

CONNIE MACK MAKES PLEA FOR RED CRANE
(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 23.—Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, has made another plea for the release of Samuel (Red) Crane, 48, convicted slayer of Della Lyter and John Oren, in a letter to the State Board of Pardon.

It was Crane's 11th petition for a commutation of his 18-to-36-year sentence for second degree murder. He has been imprisoned now for 14 years. At one time he was a shortstop for the Athletics.

The board refused clemency the 10th time on December 17, 1942. Mack said he was "willing to assume the responsibility of sponsorship" if Crane were released. He has been offered employment by an aircraft concern.

VEECK CHARGES THEFT OF IDEA

Milwaukee Baseball Showman Claims Cincy, Columbus "Steal His Stuff"

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 23.—Charges by Bill Veeck of the Milwaukee Brewers that the Cincinnati Reds and the Columbus Red Birds had swiped his morning baseball idea before he had a chance to try it out in his American Association park, brought another personality into the feud as to who started what and when.

Ray Dumont of Wichita, Kan., whose gags have helped develop the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress into one of the major sports enterprises, today threw his hat into the ring as the originator of the first "Coffee and Rolls" game.

Sinkers And Coffee
It was during the 1938 National tournament at Wichita, a Sunday game was started at 5 a. m. It was still dark and we started the contest under lights. During the seventh inning stretch the game was halted and doughnuts and coffee were served to the fans without charge.

"When Veeck called Warren Giles and Al Banister 'robbers' for swiping his idea, he evidently forgot the old saying that there's nothing new under the sun," Dumont concluded.

There is a report now that sooner or later before he returns to Sweden he will try to run a mile in less than four minutes. He has friends among the Swedish newspaper men who say he can't miss if he is in top shape and conditions are right.

"He will run a mile in 3:58," one of them said with utter confidence.

KENNEY AIDE IN TOUGH JOB

(International News Service)
SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, June 23.—In the opinion of every Army Air Corps officer in the Southwest Pacific Area, Captain Howard Marshall of Atlantic, Iowa, and Bronxville, N. Y., has the most unpleasant and the least envied task in the Allied Air Forces.

He must know, by serial number, the whereabouts of every tactical airplane in Lieut.-Gen. George Kenney's Fifth Air Force every hour of every day.

Knows All, Sees All

Marshall must know the exact number of planes in the depot—again by serial number. He has to have the location in mind of every fighter in New Guinea—and be able to give its exact location whenever Kenney might need it.

The job, Marshall insists, is not accomplished by mirrors—and to prove it he points to a massive collection of charts detailing on an hourly basis the knowledge he must have.

Literally thousands of messages from operations officers of individual units pour into Marshall's office during a day, all adding their bit to the final coordinated picture which Kenney sees.

Involved as his task may sound, its importance cannot be over-magnified. For by the intricate system employed, Kenney is able to "keep his finger" on his complete strength—and if a crisis should develop, he knows down to the last P39 the exact striking force he can assemble within a specific period.

Talks In His Sleep

Marshall's two assistants are, strangely enough, both from Dallas, Texas, and practically next-door neighbors. Captain Frank Dean is in charge of the operational side, while Lieutenant George Hunter handles the non-tactical aircraft.

The 27-year-old Marshall is frankly not overly enthused about his job—and for good reason.

"No one will even sleep with me in the same tent anymore," he explains disconsolately, "because they say I keep anyone within a half-mile awake all night reciting serial numbers in my sleep."

Union Restrictions Held Part Cause Of Shipbuilding Delay

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—A congressional subcommittee of the House Merchant Marine committee Tuesday studied charges that "union restrictions," including work limitations and craft limitations, have been responsible for a 25 per cent delay in shipbuilding.

The statements were made by Joseph Moore, Jr., president of the Moore Dry Dock Company of Oakland, who appeared as a witness before the group in San Francisco.

Twenty per cent of the delay, Moore told the committee, resulted from what he termed work limitations under which workmen are restricted in the number of rivets they may drive during a work day, and the amount of caulking they may complete.

In addition, he said, 15 per cent of the shipbuilding delay could be blamed on "craft limitations," which definitely prohibited one craftsman from invading another craftsman's field.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of OCD Workers
Are Outlined Here

Various air raid warden groups in the city are arranging for "incidents"—that is, supposed bombs. The classes will go to work and demonstrate what they would do if a live bomb fell.

Auxiliary police will meet June 29 in city hall to complete gas mask instructions.

Only a few fines have been imposed since the OCD started because of blackout violations. When such are imposed they are levied by aldermen before whom OCD officials swear to charges.

Civilian Defense workers should not become confused when the Curfew whistle and fire-bells ring at 11 p. m. nightly.

The evidence covers activities of German, Italian and Japanese espionage agents but could not be published in 1934 because of fears it would lead to diplomatic incidents.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEKALL

Things are really growing these days... corn is popping up at night and vegetables are beginning to look like something. The family that doesn't have a garden of some kind to tend to is missing a lot of fun. Getting out and working in the good earth makes you feel different... brings you closer to the real life that so many of us have been missing since the auto and modern inventions have become so popular. This not being able to drive great distances will do a lot of people a tremendous amount of good, they will become better acquainted with their family and friends... A quiet evening at home playing darts, pitching horse shoes... some other back yard game will calm most anyone's nerves... and everyone more or less have a case of nerves this year. Even the children feel the unrest... Life is what you make it and some people seem to really enjoy being alive and others who wonder what they are here on earth for... You can spot them every time... the chronic kicker.

Unless you are physically unable you should make a date to donate one pint of blood to the blood bank... The good work that can be done by your blood is sure surprising... Very few people have any reaction from donating... and less than that find the job unpleasant. Call the RED CROSS Chapter House today.

Cats, cats... live in a one room apartment and keep five cats... that is almost too much to think about and those shy little animals are death to a War Garden... if you have cats keep them in doors or under control just as you would a dog. This summer it is very important that you keep all your pets under control... a fellow who has a garden damaged by a dog or cat should be permitted to take drastic steps to prevent any further damage. One chap has a lot of high class dogs and he permits them to run loose at night... a shotgun wouldn't help their looks any... We are for dogs and dog lovers 100 percent... but there is a War on and food is a mighty serious problem... and will become ever more serious as summer grows to fall and then winter. Do your part to help your neighbor.

A little classified ad will do the work of fifty men... sell and buy this easy...

Detroit Riot Toll Is Now 29

White Woman Shot By Negro Sniper Is Latest
In Death Toll

SOME RIOTING FLAREUPS OCCUR

By CLYDE REECE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

DETROIT, June 23.—Death of a white woman shot by a Negro sniper today brought to 29 the total of fatalities in Detroit's race riots, and created new complications in the city's quest for peace and normalcy.

The latest victim was Mrs. Sally Grubowski, 55, an innocent bystander during raging battles between Negroes and whites Monday. A bullet struck her in the head.

Police announced that Napoleon Manning, Negro grocer held in jail since the shooting, would be charged with her murder.

Mrs. Grubowski was the first white woman to succumb to riot injuries. Three white men were killed. Of the remaining 25 slain, all were Negroes including one woman.

Another Negro 26-year-old Julian Witherspoon, fell victim to police bullets shortly before Mrs. Grubowski died. He was shot in the side by State Trooper Ted Anderson after he had sprinted into a Negro Y.M.C.A.

Police said Witherspoon fled a group of Negroes the police were questioning on the sidewalk, yelling "Hell Hitler." Inside the "Y" door Witherspoon halted and again orally saluted "Der Fuehrer," reaching for his pocket.

Trooper Anderson thought Witherspoon was pulling a gun, and fired immediately, officers said.

A second flareup was reported in

Hastings street, a "hot spot" in the Negro belt, where city and state police pumped 200 rounds of ammunition into a building after a sniper fired several ineffective shots at cruising officers.

Police rushed into the building after the fusillade but failed to find the sniper.

Another group of officers patrolling a residential district in a white community dispersed white youths found stoning six Negroes in an automobile. No one was injured or arrested.

Despite the new developments of officials said that baseball and horse-racing would be resumed today. Both events were cancelled Tuesday for fear of new clashes. Detroit's Tigers were scheduled to meet the Cleveland Indians in a double-header, and State Fairgrounds operators were unlocking the turnstiles.

'Swamp Gliders' Save Lives Of Army Airmen

(International News Service)

TYNDALL FIELD, Fla., June 23.—Capitalizing on the experiences of swamp explorers, the Army Air Forces have developed a plan to save the lives of fliers forced down in shallow water and in swampy places.

Oddest craft in the small "navy" maintained at Tyndall Field are the "swamp gliders," which skim the surface and can operate in as little as two inches of water. Such craft first were put into use by frog hunters and later were used by oil prospectors in swampy regions along the Texas and Louisiana coasts. The army has adopted them for the more important business of war.

Frail in appearance, the army's "swamp glider" is sturdy, made of plywood around strong oak frames. It is wide enough for freedom of movement and can safely carry more than six men. Propulsion is provided by a 65-horsepower engine, which can send the glider scooting along at a 40-mile clip.

Handcrafts Revived For Recreation And Post-War Occupation

Skills, Unused Materials In State Should Be Turned To Constructive Use

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, June 23.—The old spinning wheel is being brought down from the attic and put to work.

Home weaving, basket making and pottery are being revived in the development of handicrafts for useful recreation and to provide post-war employment.

The possibilities and value of handicrafts, using materials readily available in this state, are described in the latest number of Pennsylvania Planning, issued by the state planning board of the Department of Commerce.

"Machinery has gone to war, and America is in its shirt sleeves again," the publication states. "To maintain our way of life we must turn to the resources of our own homes and neighborhood and add by the work of our own hands to the wealth and morale of our families, our friends, our communities and our country."

In doing these useful things for ourselves and our neighbors and in developing the handicrafts of the state to meet the needs of war, we are also preparing a post-war pattern of life that can give employment to our older workers, to our young men and women, and to our disabled soldiers.

"Almost every American neighborhood, rural or urban, is a reservoir of skills. Almost every Pennsylvania rural neighborhood is a source of raw materials. To turn these skills and unused materials to constructive use is a war-time responsibility for those who have mastered any of the previous types of handicrafts and are unable to join in our military individual effort."

Calvary Tabernacle To Have Conference

Eighth Annual Summer Bible
Conference Will Open
Sunday, July 4

Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, Vogan street, East Side, has announced that the opening of its Eighth Annual Summer Bible Conference will be held Sunday, July 4, with Rev. M. A. McCone of Chicago as the first of six prominent Bible Conference speakers. The conference will continue through Sunday, August 8.

Conference sessions will be conducted nightly, except Mondays and Saturdays, at 7:45 o'clock, and every Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Among the features will be spirited congregational singing, special musical selections, Bible teaching, evangelistic preaching and Christian fellowship. The auditorium is so constructed that it may be converted into a summer pavilion, thus providing a cool place for the conference.

Other speakers will be Rev. Marmon L. Love of Bible School Park, N. Y., Rev. Joseph Marone of New York City, Rev. Earl T. Pavro of Washington, Pa., and Rev. James R. Graham of Glendale, Calif.

Former conferences at the tabernacle have been attended by hundreds of local and out of town friends and it was decided to have the eighth conference in spite of wartime restrictions.

Rev. Raymond J. Fredericks, pastor of the tabernacle, is the conference director.

VACANT LOTS

Civic pride takes in sanitation streets, residences and citizens. We want our citizens to be healthy, clean, neat and prosperous looking.

We want our streets to be clean and in good repair. We want our houses to be in good condition. We want our yards and gardens to present a good appearance.

A vacant lot can spoil a whole community. Vacant lot owners are not always interested in keeping them in good shape.

Sometimes the neighbors mow the grass and clear out the brush and weeds. Owners of vacant lots should try to keep them from being an eye sore.

The city would look better. The neighbors would feel better.

Popular Revolt In 1944 Election Seen By Senator

Texas Assails Breakdown On Home Front As Result Of Vote-Seeking, Pussyfooting

(International News Service)

Washington, June 23.—The administration's conduct of the war on the home front was assailed in senate debate Tuesday by Democratic senators with Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel (D) of Tex., predicting a revolt of the people in the 1944 elections.

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler (D) of Mont., attacked handling of manpower and food problems and renewed his protests against drafting married men with families.

O'Daniel charged that many high administration officials are thinking more about the 1944 election than the home front crisis and flayed the "dictatorship of labor racketeers."

"I want to say to my Democratic colleagues that if any of you are looking to the election in 1944 and if you believe that pussyfooting with this labor situation is going to be popular with the American people, I think you are wrong," he said.

Sen. Wheeler declared that "it is a disservice to our fighting men to permit matters on the home front to continue in their present state."

Chief factors responsible for the break down on the home front, he said, were lack of over-all planning, the so-called "Washington" method of directing operations and the unfortunate choice of many administrators.
